S. I. DUNN NAMED AS POSTMASTER

Name Sent to Senate by Harding

WASHBURNE TO RETIRE

Completes 9 Years Continuous Service in Office

Simpson I. Dunn was Saturday nominated as Port Arthur's new postmaster by President Harding.

He probably will make bond and take the office within two weeks, succeeding J. H. Washburne, who has been postmaster for the past nine years.

Mr. Dunn has been a resident of Port Arthur for the past 14 years, coming here from Galveston. He is now employed in the shipping department of the Texas Company on Texas Island. Up to three years ago he was with the customs department, serving as special deputy collector and as deputy for 14 years.

Nominee a Republican. Mr. Dunn is a republican. His brother, Col. R. H. Dunn, is county chairman of the republican organization in Jefferson county.

Mr. Washburne when informed of Mr. Dunn's appointment said that he, like Mr. Dunn, was not surprised. The news was not unexpected to either of them, each said.

The present postmaster, however, pointed to his grade in the civil service examination held for the place, which Mr. Washburne said was 10 points above the next highest man. Appointments of this nature are generally looked upon as political favors.

Building, although it cannot be denied that a capable man has been picked to succeed the old-line democrat.

"Good Man," Says Washburne. "He is a good man and will make a good postmaster," Mr. Washburne said yesterday. "I was associated with him when he was in the customs department and found him to be a good business man."

Mr. Washburne said that he had operated the postoffice upon a non-political plane. "I have no politics," he said, "and I have no politics."

Office Pays $3,000 Yearly. It is not believed that there will be any material changes in the lineup of assistants at the postoffice, as all of them are highly recommended and could not be removed without charges being preferred against them, under the operation of the civil service system.

Mr. Washburne's term expired officially Sept. 5, but an appointment was made at the time it had remained the office.

The office of postmaster pays $3,000

Money Must Reach Committee by Feb. 1

Money is now coming in to defray expenses of the citizens committee in its fight against the Peoples Gas company's $2.40 rate.

All consumers of gas were requested this week to "give what they can" to prevent the gas company from getting an injunction to stop the $2.40 rate ordered by the city commission.

It was explained that it is up to the committee to employ legal talent to defend the rate and the city is without funds to pay this cost.

The money must be in the hands of City Treasurer Lomax by Feb. 1.

Co. D, 111th Engineers, Get First Pay Day On Tuesday Night

Tuesday will be pay night with Company D, 111th Engineers recently organized here.

The men will gather at the Plaza and receive their first checks, Captain W. C. Parrish announced last night.

Approximately $8,000 a year will be paid out to the Port Arthur unit.

Captain Parrish has just gotten orders to recruit the company to full strength of 100 men. He already has more than 60 in the outfit with equipment for 250. The ranks are now open for more men, he announces.

SCHOOL BOARD LETS CONTRACT

Low Bid of $320,463 Gets High School Job

$119,800 FOR DEQUEEN

Dallas and San Tone Firms Successful Bidders

The school board late last night awarded contracts for a $548,293 improvement program at the high school and DeQueen school.

Hickey and Montgomery, Dallas, secured the contract for the general work at the high school on a bid of $320,463. The high bid was $362,500.

Walsh and Burney, San Antonio, was awarded the contract for general work at the DeQueen school on a bid of $119,800. The high bid was $132,522.

Letting of the contracts by the school board is the first step towards actual construction following the voting of bonds for these improvements by a five to one majority here last July 1.

Four Separate Contracts. The contracts were let in four different lots in each instance. Hickey & Montgomery was awarded only the general work on the high school while the plumbing, sewerage and gas-fitting work went to A. H. Shafer, San Antonio, for $27,351; heating to A. H. Shafer for $39,103; electrical work, E. B. Hummel, Beaumont, for $7,738.

For the DeQueen the general work went to Walsh and Burney as stated for $119,800; the plumbing to A. H. Shafer, San Antonio, for $13,754; heating A. H. Shafer, $14,617; electrical work, A. H. Shafer, $2,800.

"These prices represent the maximum cost," Secretary Abney explained to The News last night. "It is possible that some changes can be made to bring about some reductions."

Work To Be Pushed. President Burton of the school board told The News that the contractors have promised to rush work on the DeQueen school.

"It deliveries and weather conditions permit," he said, "we hope to have it ready by next fall. If we are (Continued From Page 1)

RUHR REDS TRY TO OUST FRENCH

Strikers Close Rhine Stations Against Trains

ESSEN, Jan. 27.—Communist processions were brought up by German police in the streets of Essen tonight as the strike tried to break into districts where French troops were garrisoned.

Rumors of serious trouble swept the city. Threatening crowds yelled and looted around the railway station. Police cordons were thrown across side streets leading to where the French soldiers waited.

The railway system around the city was in confusion. Workers closed more stations on the Rhine, through which they suspected the French would push troop trains.

MISSING NEZAT BOYS RETURNED TO HOME

Missing from their home for nearly a week, Alexis Nezat, 15, and his brother, Gifford, 12, returned to the paternal domicile, 1225 Houston avenue, late Saturday. It was reported to police station by A. Nezat, father of the boys.

First report that the boys were missing was made to the police Wednesday, when Nezat said they had not been seen since last Sunday. When they failed to return Friday, messages were sent out to nearby Texas and Louisiana places to look out for the lads, police said.

ARDMORE TRIAL OF 11 FOR MURDER, MONDAY

ARDMORE, Okla., Jan. 27.—The state and eleven Carter county men who will go on trial Monday for alleged connection with the murder of three men resulting from a raid by a masked band on the home of Joe Carroll near Wilson, Oklahoma, the night of December 15, 1921, announced tonight they were ready for the case to open.

CHICAGO RUN DRIVE

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Following more than six months investigation, prohibition officers in the Great Lakes region tonight planned a drive against rum runners with Chicago as headquarters.

Legion Membership Drive to Start Feb. 1

"Come On, Buddy!"

Port Arthur's going to hear that slogan a lot between February 1 and March 1.

It's the slogan adopted for the membership drive the Rudolph Lamson post, American Legion, will launch in Port Arthur the first of next month, it was announced Saturday.

A whirlwind campaign to line up every ex-serviceman in the city will be set in motion by the Legionnaires, according to David W. Edly, following a meeting of Legion officials Saturday afternoon when plans for the membership drive were formulated, and the "Come On, Buddy!" slogan adopted.

$3,500 NEEDED IN $30,000 GOAL

$26,534 Raised in C. of C. Budget Drive

"CLEAN-UP" MONDAY

"Mopper" Squad to Make Last Offensive

Less than $3,500 is needed today to complete the $30,000 budget for the Chamber of Commerce's opportunity year program.

At 6 o'clock last night General Manager Roy Stump tabulated the total amount raised by YMBL workers for a total of $26,534.

This week will see the completion of the campaign to reach the minimum figure, which was set by President H. P. Barker as $30,000. The work to be launched by the YMBL tomorrow morning will be known as a "clean up" offensive and is expected to "smoke out" many contributions by persistent efforts.

On the whole officials of the organization and leaders of the campaign so far they make it plain, however, that they have no intention of slackening their efforts until the goal is reached.

The following is a list of contributions to the campaign to date:

CITY DECIDES TO PAY HALF COST

Citizens' Meeting Makes Decision

MAY HASTEN ACTION

Government Will Meet City Half Way, Belief

Port Arthur late yesterday renewed its fight for revetment work along the waterfront with a more active program when it decided to defray half the expense for the work.

This decision was reached by a group of representative citizens which took part in a meeting presided over by George Bliss in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

The meeting was executive, it was discovered after the News reporter had drawn up his chair, but Mr. Bliss gave out an announcement last night as to the results reached.

Among those present were Mayor Logan and practically every prominent business man in the city.

To Amend Application. The city already has applied to the government in an endeavor to have federal engineers take over this improvement and stand all of the expense. At the same time, however, observing citizens have noted that Houston, Galveston, and Beaumont have always started such negotiations for improvements with a promise of bearing half or more of the expense. With this in mind, Port Arthur has decided to withdraw its original application and substitute one wherein the city agrees to stand half of the expense.

It is pointed out that should the government reject Port Arthur's original application, then the city would be forced to pay the entire cost of the revetment, as it is an improvement which is essential if the banks of the canal are to be preserved. On the other hand, under the amended application of Port Arthur, it is thought that the government will entertain it with a greater interest.

Election Necessary. "The government likes to do business with towns which are willing to go half way on the expense," is the manner in which the stand on the revetment project is described.

It is estimated that the work would cost approximately $15 per front foot. There are about 17,000 feet in the project.

Should the government decide to accept Port Arthur's counter proposition, then the city must hold an election and vote bonds to pay its share of the cost, it was explained last night.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Jan. 27.—"Punch" Villa, former revolutionist, now agriculturist, may come to the United States in February to purchase modern farm implements for his hacienda at Camutillo, Durango, Mexico. He will go to Dallas, Mexican papers state that "Punch" has already corresponded with Governor Pat M. Neff on the subject and has been informed that he will not be molested or arrested while in the state of Texas.

Vice Squad Orders 'Joints' to Stay Closed

Lights burned low in rooming houses of questionable character in that well known section of the city commonly described as "across the tracks" last night.

Police dropped by, headed by Chief Ward, spent a moment or so and passed on.

Shades were drawn, doors locked and these places became quiet.

The order had been given out to "close and stay closed."

Not only were the questionable places "across the track" told to withdraw the latch-string from the exterior, houses on Procter, as far as Austin, and in other sections, also were firmly told to lock up and throw away the key.

2 BEAUMONT MEN TAKEN AT ORANGE WITH PARCEL GOTTEN ON STOLEN FORM

Raid Sequel To Burglary Of Port Arthur Physician's Office Six Months Ago While Resident Of Orange; Officers Believe Source Of Port Arthur-Orange-Beaumont Supply Is Tapped.

Federal narcotic agents last night dug deep into the "dope" supply of Orange and Port Arthur when two vendors were captured with $8,000 worth of the stuff, which they had secured on blank forms stolen from a Port Arthur physician.

Two men giving their names as Leonard McDonald, 38, and Nathan A. Taylor, 36, and their address as Beaumont, were placed under arrest by John M. Tully, federal narcotic agent operating out of the El Paso office. The arrests were made at Orange just as the men were leaving the American Express office with a package containing $8,742 worth of morphine and cocaine. The pair is being held until formal charges are filed against them in federal court at Beaumont.

Office Burglarized. The part the Port Arthur physician's blank forms played in the order dates back six months, when Dr. J. H. Thomas, now occupying offices in the Tyrrell building and residing at 3043 Sixth street, was practicing in Orange. Just prior to leaving Orange to return to Port Arthur, where he resumed his practice, Dr. Thomas reported to Chief of Police G. V. Denman the theft of three physician's order blanks for narcotics from his office.

This theft was connected with the arrests tonight when McDonald, one of the two men arrested, gave his name as Dr. J. H. Thomas. Chief Denman knew Dr. Thomas and was on the spot to deny McDonald's claim to Dr. Thomas' identity. Others who also claimed to know Dr. Thomas were called in and refused to identify McDonald as being the physician. It was then that McDonald broke down and confessed his identity.

Tully, the federal officer, was sent out of the El Paso office to Orange on his present investigation of dope peddling and guggling when large shipments began to arrive at Orange at frequent intervals. The stuff was traced to the express office following information from the oil field that dope was being peddled on almost as large a scale as bootleg liquor was being handled out.

Two Shipments Get Through. Two shipments of equal value at bootlegging prices, preceded the shipment that fell prey to the officer's trap. Both of these, like the third, were consigned to Dr. J. H. Thomas, Orange, Texas and bore the name "Direct Sales Co., Buffalo, N. Y." as consignors. It is believed that as two missing physician's order blanks were used to get through the first two orders.

The consignment seized today was just a part of the original order. A twin package, containing another 200 ounces of similar narcotics, is due to arrive Monday, according to officers.

The first two shipments which successfully found their way through official and express company red tape arrived between Nov. 4 and Nov. 22. The package seized was shipped from Buffalo Jan. 22.

Fearful "Double-Cross." There seems to have existed between McDonald and Taylor a spirit of distrust and a feeling that one would give the other the double-cross. McDonald on a previous occasion had cautioned the express agent about not to deliver to Taylor unless accompanied by McDonald himself.

So when Taylor appeared in the express office today with an order for the package on a bill head formerly used by Dr. Thomas, and signed "J. H. Thomas, M. D.," the agent refused to deliver the parcel, saying that Taylor must bring in McDonald.

McDonald was produced, the package brought forth and signed for by McDonald, who used the name of Dr. Thomas.

Just as the two stepped out of the door Tully and Denman grabbed them. They were started by the appearance of the officers, but showed no signs of resistance. The men will be charged with violating the narcotic act and sections dealing with forgery of a physician's name for narcotics.

Give Addresses. McDonald gave his address as 492 Milan street and Taylor gave his as 912 Washington street, both in Beaumont.

An inventory of the shipment shows it contained three one-ounce bottles of morphine sulphate; sixteen 1-8 ounce bottles of morphine tablets; one hundred hypo tablets of 1-2 grain each of morphine; eight 1-8 ounce bottles of cocaine; hydrochloric acid; 27 hypo tablets of 1-8 grain each of cocaine and 100 hypo tablets of 1-6 grain each of heroin.

CHARLIE AND POLI?

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27.—Reports prevailed tonight that Charlie Chaplin is about to leave aboard the "Lark" for Del Monte to marry Pola Negri.

Charlie was "very busy" at his studio today and refused to see newspaper men.

Dr. Thomas Tells Of Stolen Forms

A skeleton key was used to gain admission to Dr. J. H. Thomas' office in Orange six months ago.

That skeleton key passed two men into the private rooms of Dr. Thomas, where three order blanks were obtained to get narcotics illegally.

"My office in the Terrill building at Orange was robbed five or six months ago," Dr. Thomas, now of Port Arthur, declared last night. "I reported the fact to the police at Orange at that time, but since then had heard no trace of the articles taken away."

"The men who entered my office took $100 in theft stamps and a 38 Smith and Wesson pistol along with the three narcotic order blanks."

The act that only three order blanks had been taken coincides exactly with the fact that only three shipments of "dope" aggregating enormous proportions, according to federal agents, were made.

"They assumed my name," Dr. Thomas asserted here last night, and the federal authorities investigating the case which resulted in the capture of $8,742 worth of cocaine at Orange last night and the subsequent arrest of two men identified as Taylor and McDonald, were receiving the various shipments declare that such are the facts.

Scout Troops Step Out to Win Flag in Membership Drive Contest

TENDERFEET ARE FAST ENTERING

Numerous Patrol Leaders Named for Novitiates

Port Arthur Boy Scouts are out to win honors. That fact is pointed out through the activity with which the Scouts have entered into the national drive for new members, and in the way new ones are coming into the fold, according to late advices from Scout headquarters here.

It is now quite evident that several among the Port Arthur Scouts will glean honorable mention among others over the country when the campaign for members is finished, while it is also almost certain that Port Arthur will sport a national trophy.

TROOP ACTIVITIES

TROOP FOUR

We met at Webster school but had to go to Franklin again for our meeting. In front of the school we lined up and Mr. Power told me to take them around to the back. We got around without any mishaps and waited for him. When he came out I asked him if we could go swimming because some of the boys wanted to pass tests. Mr. Power let us go in swimming but he made us a few announcements before we addressed. We stayed in for about 30 minutes while some of the boys were perfecting their strokes. Others dived while and the rest played tag. We got out of the pool and dressed.

The rest of the meeting was held in Mr. Smith's office. The meeting started by repeating the Scout oath, law and pledge of allegiance to the flag. We answered roll call by telling a good deed we did during the week. The good turns were from carrying letters to the postoffice to taking care of baby or enlisting sister's help. We then went into a short business session.

When Mr. Daspit left the troop he took a patrol leader and assistant with him. These had to be elected. Robert Diamond and Waid McGuffin were nominated. Robert was elected patrol leader for Patrol 1. He took Waid for his assistant.

At a few meetings ago we took Homer Wells into the troop. He has not attended a meeting since then. If he does not come regular now for six weeks he will get a transfer. James New promised to attend four meetings but he was absent also.

We had nine absent but we think this was on account of the graduation exercises. We advise these nine boys to be present next Friday at the boys' back door of the Franklin school. We met now at Mr. Smith's office. Mr. Powell attended his last regular meeting with us. He has been acting scoutmaster for two meetings. Mr. Smith, gym teacher, is to be our scoutmaster. He used to be a Scout and knows scouting from A to Z. We are sorry to see Mr. Power leave but are glad to see a regular scoutmaster.

We are behind you, Mr. Smith, so let's go!

TROOP SIX

Troop 6 opened its meeting with twenty-five present. There were seven new candidates. Burns Watts presented August Neobs for reinstatement and Eddie Bellot presented Clarence Domingue. Mr. Patrol Leader George Fortin landed on the Ed-George cards. While patrol leaders were checking up then patrol Tenderfoot Scouts were called up for second-class tests. Annie Mattar and Julius Hebert passed pacing. Patrol Leader Allen Babon of patrol two took them out for the test. James Bollinger passed advanced first aid. Leonard Stansberry and James Bollinger brought up a certificate showing that they passed swimming. Leonard Stansberry brought up a football and the Scouts decided to pass him on handiwork.

There was lost of interest aroused in the efficiency contest. Patrol one came out on top, having 175 points. Patrol four was second with 112 points.

Here is where I got to bragging on my own. I was on patrol one, too, and you know the line. I was in uniform, hair combed and shoes shined. I consisted of Howell Hies, Erwin Laughlin, Raymond Quebedeaux, Thomas Beadle, Milton Quebedeaux, James Bollinger, Julius Hebert, French Provost, Willie Bollinger and George Stiehl.

Our senior patrol leader had some social duties to attend to for the first time. I heard he was a party. Don't know who the sweetie was. Adam Rodriguez and Aristide Landry also skipped off about the same time.

We had an exciting game of rooster fighting. Tuby Stiehl falling victim of a trick and took a fall. Then we had Howell Hies and Jackson (Fatty) Moore. Fatty is our new candidate. He was unanimously elected. Howell put up a game fight against him. We also had a hat race in which Tuby Stiehl won.

Scoutmaster Scully then lined up the boys and we had a relay race. Assistant Scoutmaster Kent took charge and lined the troop up for a Kelly drill. At the end of five minutes fourteen were sitting down. Arthur Dabin was the last one to remain standing.

We sure did miss the usual crowd and noise since a good many of our number were transferred to Troop 15. Acting Senior Patrol Leader Allen Babon had Howell Hies sound "To the Colors," and closed the meeting.

We had two of our committeemen present. Mr. Landry and Mr. Jackson, besides a number of other visitors.

All interested in basketball come when he gets them there he makes

TROOP SEVEN

We had our regular meeting Friday night. We had 25 present at the meeting. We met at 7:30 and had 15 in uniform. Mr. Keever said that we would not go to the Texas Company this Saturday but we will go next Saturday. We stayed inside about 20 minutes. We had two new Scouts to join Troop 7, then we had one to transfer from Troop 5 to this troop. We then went outside and made about ten minutes. Mr. Keever then divided us up into two parts to play "Steal the Flag." We did not have any flags so we used hats. We played about an hour. Both sides got the hat two or three times while we were playing. We then disbanded about 9 o'clock and went home. Mr. Keever said that we would meet at 7:15 next Friday night. We are all agreed to be present at the next meeting.

"Ebb Tide" Big Feature at Peoples

The absorbing and sympathetic story of how Robert Herrick was wrecked in the swamps of civilization and how he finally struggled back to firm ground is the theme of "Ebb Tide," a sensational story which will be shown at the Peoples Theatre today. Lila Lee, James Kirkwood, Raymond Hatton, George Fawcett, Noah Beery and Jacqueline Logan are the featured players.

A young man of good birth and two careful parents, he was never allowed to face responsibility—Robert Herrick becomes a drifter and is stranded on a boat in a South Sea island. Here he meets two other drifters, a discredited but likable master mariner, named Davis and a shady, vile-mouthed London clerk called Hulsh. The three are drawn together by the bonds of hunger and

John Barrymore In Sherlock Holmes At Peoples Theater

Sherlock Holmes is the best known character in fiction of the present generation. If not of all time; his name and fame have been carried over the civilized world until merely to pronounce the name conjures up a vision of a master detective of almost superhuman intelligence.

It was inevitable that some day Sherlock Holmes would appear as the hero of a screen story. The immortal detective will be seen at the Peoples Theatre on Wednesday for four days in the Goldwyn picture called "Sherlock Holmes."

It has been one of the most popular lay plays in the history of the American stage. Its film version awaited the finding of an actor who could translate the character in all its fineness to the screen.

Barrymore the Right Actor

Such an actor was found in the person of John Barrymore, the most romantic and picturesque figure on the American stage—son of a theatrical family, who has of late years proved himself possessed of histrionic genius in a high degree.

"Sherlock Holmes," as a photoplay has all the ingredients of thrills, suspense, mystery and high-actioned drama which make the detective story the most captivating form of fiction and which have made the Sherlock Holmes stories stand at the head of that class of fiction.

Taken all in all, "Sherlock Holmes" is one of those rare photoplays that appear from time to time which appeal to and satisfy everyone. It is one of the biggest pictures of the year, and bound to prove a great popular success.

Slim Shoulders With Irene Castle

The fashionable visitors at Palm Beach are many times shown in the backgrounds of the new Irene Castle production, "Slim Shoulders," which comes to the Pearce theatre Monday for an engagement of three days.

All of the exterior for this new picture were made in the possible exception of a few shots of New York streets, which, of course, the studio scenes also were made in the Tiford studios in New York, but taken

New Musical Comedy Opens at the Strand

"The Secret of the Cellar," which opens at the Strand today, matinee, promises to be one of the best musical comedy companies of the season here. The bill is said to be filled with good, clean, wholesome amusement, and the latest vaudeville hits.

In the play George M. Hall and Miss Margaret Little are cast as the leading fun makers. Mr. Hall takes the part of the uncle who favors a blonde for a daughter-in-law, while the nephew has selected a brunette for his wife. In order to get the position his uncle has promised, the nephew has the part of an "irate mother" in search of her daughter, who's just eloped. Many funny situations are placed before everything is satisfactorily explained.

Other members of the excellent company are cast so as to make their parts individual. The feature of the specialty acts is a "De Lave Quartette," in which Miss Hope Emerson, known as six feet of comedy, is given a chance to prove that she is capable of earning the title. Other features of the bill include the dancing, excellent singing and vaudeville hits.

"The Truthful Liar" at the Strand

How much would you dare for your thrill after thrill in this powerful drama of modern youth's follies and courage.

These and more are the interesting events in "The Truthful Liar," starring Wanda Hawley, which comes to Strand theater on Wednesday.

Trail of the Ax At the Liberty

"The Trail of the Ax," a new picture in which Dustin Farnum stars, enables the popular actor to play the sort of character he likes best. He is seen as Dave Malkera, owner of a thriving lumber camp, who contracts must be filled on time or else a large forfeit in money must be paid. Dave is a happy-go-lucky, robust sort of fellow who suddenly finds that the girl he loves has engaged herself to his ne'er-do-well brother. Dave's efforts to make his brother "worthy of the girl and the sensational manner in which the fellow behaves him, give Dustin big opportunity for straight-from-the-shoulder acting.

Spectacular Wreck in Love Never Dies

King Vidor, whose penchant consists in taking a simple tale of rural characters and evolving a tensely dramatic story out of it, has found another subject for the expression of his art in "Love Never Dies," his latest picture, which opens at the Pearce Theatre next Saturday.

The story of "Love Never Dies" lives up to its title. David Hughes, the leading male player, has the role of a successful, self-made engineer, who finds his home life broken up by rumors that center upon his supposed mother. From the tangle he frees himself by severing himself from all former surroundings; but the ties that bound him to his wife are too strong to be broken by such a step.

A spectacular train wreck features in the early part of the story, and has its counterpart in the thrilling rescue of a drowning man from the waters in the last reel of film.

It is in the evolution of this climax that the leading characters find the solution to their problems and happiness.

Madge Bellamy, who plays opposite David Hughes, is a "pretty and pretty." Both she and Mr. Hughes are supported by a worthy cast that includes Claire McLowell, William Greenwald, Joe Bennett, Fred Gamblin, Frank Broadway and Julia Brown.

REVIVAL OF "TESS" BY DAINTY MARY PICKFORD

An artistic triumph of several years ago, "Tess of the Storm Country" has been revived in a new production by Mary Pickford. It is the first instance in which a great star has rebuilt from the past a motion picture which won for her the foremost place in the heart of the screen worshipping public.

This new, 1922, production of "Tess of the Storm Country" has been booked as the feature attraction to be shown soon by the management of the Peoples Theatre.

New Type of Auto Engines and Era of Better Fuel Is Science's Pledge to Motorist

NEW COMPOUND TO BETTER GAS

Development of High Compression Power Plants Is Nearing

Every motorist is told in forceful terms each day, by engineers and mechanics, that the gasoline he is using is none too good. Such gasoline in present engines causes excessive knocking, rapid carbonization, crank case dilution, and a lot of other troubles.

But we soon shall be rid of all this, and what is more, the industry will begin to consider the development of really high compression engines, regardless of the nature of the fuel sold. All of this new development at least new to the motorist, although the big men in the automobile field have been trying to overcome the defects of fuel for many years. For the present, the substance has been developed which takes the knock out of engines—not a bearing knock or a wrist pin knock, but the trouble some knocking due to the bad fuel. This knocking slows you down on a grade and makes you retard the spark ever so often. The General Motors research department is responsible for finding a substance called tetra ethyl lead (alcohol lead), which when mixed with gasoline in the proportions of one cubic centimeter to the gallon, stops the knocking.

NEW COMPOUND ELIMINATES KNOCKING

Of course, violent overheating or incandescent carbon will continue to cause knocking, but if enough of the new substance is used even knocking under these conditions is reduced. But there is more to the new substance than the mere removal of the knocking in present engines. These engines run at 60, 65 or 75 pounds compression pressure, with a maximum compression ratio of say 1 to 1. The industry wants to use compression ratios of 7 to 1 and 10 to 1, corresponding to 100 to 120 pounds compression. That will mean economy in fuel, more power, less crankcase dilution. But we cannot increase compression without causing excessive knocking due to the high heat and pressure.

This knocking, by the way, is usually caused by a spark knock, but is actually a violent detonation caused by the breaking down of the fuel into one or more compounds that do not merely explode, but detonate. It is the force and sound of the detonation that you hear when you are "tapping up a hill." The knocking may be at any retarded spark, because then the explosion mixture is fired at lower pressure, and it is the high pressure of heat that causes the knocking.

For many years the industry knew that we could not have high compression engines or remove the knock in present ones without altering the nature of the fuel. All sorts of compounds were tried and some of them were highly successful in their work, but they cost too much. The new substance, a liquid, resulted after testing hundreds of different compounds. Made of alcohol and lead, it is certain that we shall have control over the main ingredients for our lead mines are plentiful and alcohol is produced almost anywhere in any desired quantity. The writer had the pleasure of using some tetra ethyl lead and can say that it is quite efficient when the right amount is used.

TO BE ACCESSIBLE TO MOTORISTS SOON

That the important thing to the motorist is that he may get some of this substance, but very shortly the vendors of gasoline will sell the fuel already "doped," as it is the intention of the producers of the compound to sell it to the refiners for mixing at the plant where the gasoline is made. Then it is planned to get wider and wider distribution on this doped fuel so that in time nothing but this anti-knock fuel will be available. When that happy day comes, and I

Gas Consumption Depends To Some Extent on Tires

No question in motoring is more interesting than the relationship between rubber tires and gasoline consumption. When a tire wears a load is rolled or riven of the tire. Both, say tire men, have to be overcome by expenditure of gasoline.

In general, gasoline consumption depends in largest part upon grade of gas, mechanical construction of car, its condition, efficiency of driver, inflation, condition and size of tires, speed, load and road conditions. All these factors are variables and consequently cause a fluctuation in gas consumption or tire mileage.

TIRE PRICES IN NEW ADVANCE

British Excess Taxes Being Felt by Factories

Tire prices have advanced from 12 1/2 per cent to 25 per cent, according to John Hendrickson of the American Tire Company. Dealers are now selling the present stock at the old prices but when they receive new shipment the prices on all tires will advance, he says, depending on the grade of rubber used in them and their size.

"A greater part of the raw rubber supply comes from British India," he says, "and it seems that the English have placed an excess tax on exports of rubber to pay the American war debt. The automobile public is paying the English war debt to the United States in the advance of prices on all rubber goods and especially on auto tires."

Hendrickson says that the percentage of advance varies with the size of the tire, the larger ones carrying the biggest advance.

FRANCE NOW HAS 75 AUTOMOBILE PLANTS

France has seventy-five automobile manufacturers. The annual production is 100,000 cars and trucks.

should wildly guess it to be ten years from now, we will already be driving high compression engines, for these will not be marketed until the anti-knock fuel can be had anywhere. While the cost of the fuel will be for the present some 2 cents a gallon more than ordinary fuel, the saving in gasoline and the increase in power will alone make for extreme economy.

The engineer, however, when he is certain of being able to market high compression engines, will at once turn his engines to the development of a different sort of vehicle—a new conception of a light car. The high compression will permit of high speed, high output engines per unit of displacement, and these engines will be light in weight and will go in lighter weight chassis, perhaps made out of aluminum, or some other aluminum alloy—possibly so. If Ford should succeed in smashing the aluminum trust by getting hold of the resources at Muscle Shoals,

BATTERY CARE LENGTHENS LIFE

Service Stations in Campaign of Education

To most automobilists the inside of a battery is a subject of considerable mystery. Most of them know that the box does not contain a series of gears and pinions such as are found in the transmission, but aside from that their knowledge is more or less nil.

Although the extensive use of the automobile today has necessitated a general all-around knowledge of the elementary mechanical workings of the machine, few people bother to find out what makes the battery do the excellent work it does. Often times, it is not until the starter refuses to work and the crank as well, that the automobilist wakes up to the fact that his machine has a battery in it which he has given no care.

CLOSED CAR SCARCITY

A scarcity of enclosed cars, to meet the demand for them in 1933, is predicted by Alfred Reeves, general manager of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. The trend of favor, he says, is toward this type of body.

GIRL SAYS SHE WAS SOLD BY MAN FOR $65

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 27.—Sixty-five dollars in greenbacks enabled Marlona Tatro, a Filipino, to purchase a 1930-old white car in Sacramento, according to a store told the police today by the girl, Gladys Clark, who is held in the city jail after having been arrested during a clean-up raid in the lower end of the city.

The girl, who first gave her name as Helen Smith, told Captain of Detectives T. N. Koenig she was sold to Tatro by her mother, whose name and habits she refused to reveal. Following the transaction, the trio went to Oakland on May 23, where, according to her story, the girl was married to Tatro.

AROUND WORLD IN BUICK AUTO

Ohio Couple to Spend Two Years in Trip

Probably one of the greatest motor trips ever undertaken by a private party has been started by Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Jeffries of Columbus, Ohio, who are on their way around the world in their five passenger Buick. They will be gone two years, Mr. and Mrs. Jeffries are now touring through the Rhine valley in Europe and will visit every known site of interest. They left Columbus early in June, motored to New York and sailed for Europe. Landing in Lisbon, Portugal, they motored through Portugal, Spain and France. They spent several weeks on the battlefields in that section of France. In December they went to England and toured Scotland and a part of Ireland.

Early in 1921, they started again on their journey, to visit Belgium, Netherlands, Denmark, Germany, Sweden, Norway, Czechoslovakia, Austria, Italy, Greece, Turkey, Palestine, Egypt, Arabia, and thence to England.

In 1924 the party will go through Korea, Japan and Hawaii, from where they expect to sail June 17 for the United States and tour across the country to their home in Ohio.

U. S. MOTOR CARS EXCEL IN DESIGN

William N. Davis, Cadillac body engineer, is authority for the statement that America surpasses all countries in the art of motor car body building.

Gasoline is distributed only by garages in Switzerland.

France had one auto to every 121 inhabitants in 1921.

Forty railroads are using motor trucks for short hauls.

Fifty-six street railway companies are operating motor trucks.

Three-fourths of the mines in this country are using motor trucks.

Skidding of Car Must Be Stopped Before It Starts

Skidding is probably one of the most common causes of automobile accidents. Yet, if the driver is careful he should have no trouble from skidding. The only skid that can be controlled absolutely is the skid that does not start. Slow, even turns, and slow, even stops, and starts will avoid skids. Never apply the brakes suddenly, and never disengage the clutch until you have almost come to a stop. On icy pavements you should never attempt to drive without the chains. Also by keeping the windshield clean you will do away with much of the possibility of skids caused by the necessity of suddenly applying the brakes.

HERE IS FINE GLASS AND METAL POLISH

A good glass and metal polish is made by mixing one part of wheat flour with five parts of potter's clay. Apply with a damp woolen cloth. This mixture is without equal for removing tar, grease, paint and other stains from all glass.

ADVANCE THE SPARK TO SAVE GASOLINE

Experience has taught that one of the best ways to save gasoline on the road is to keep the spark well advanced.

COP PATROLS BEAT IN HIS MOTOR CAR

Police Sgt. John W. Greene of Washington, D. C., was found patrolling his beat by riding around in his automobile. Greene is said to be worth $200,000.

Nearly all Atlanta's milk supply comes by truck.

Try the brakes every time the car is taken out.

Loose terminals cause considerable loss in motor efficiency.

WOMEN PREFER ENCLOSED CARS

60 Pct. of Cars Made Are of This Type

Women are one of the prime factors in the country's automobile market and there is slight doubt in the minds of automobile manufacturers that they are largely responsible for a 60 per cent preference for closed cars, as expressed by a automobile buyers, according to Ed Linn of the Linn Motor Company, Ford dealer. Although only 1 per cent of these buyers were frank enough to say positively that "the women demand it," the other reasons indicated the influence of the feminine members of their family.

Protection from weather, all year round comfort and a general better appearance were among the chief reasons set forth in answer to the questionnaire. Although conditions in America are too variable to permit an accurate survey, many millions of votes were taken, the 60 per cent preference seemed to strike a fair average.

Many of the replies gave several reasons for the owners' preference. In order of percentages, they were as follows:

Weather conditions	41	Pet.
General comfort	31
Economy	20
Appearance	17
No side curtains	4
Business reasons	3

MULTIPLE CARBURETOR

A new form of carburetor, with 13 gasoline jets, has been invented. It is said this instrument maintains exact proportions of fuel and air at all speeds and conditions, so that perfect vaporization results. As the throttle opens wider, the number of jets allowing fuel to pass increases, until with a wide open throttle, all 13 jets are going.

Cost of the Average Automobile is $770

The average automobile bought in 1922 cost $770. This was 14 per cent below the price of 1921, when the average car sold for $900. What car is the low average in auto prices is the overwhelming supply of low-priced cars on the market. More than half the cars in the country today are Fords, highest priced for which in 1922 was $265. This year, the new style sedan will raise that maximum to $725, but this has not yet affected the average of last year.

At the same time, $1 per cent of all autos and motor trucks were produced by only six big manufacturers, producing about a dozen different cars. Almost nearly all these were cars of moderate price.

HOW TO KEEP IDLE BATTERY IN WINTER

When an automobile is to go into the shop for repairs during the winter months, the batteries should be taken out, cleaned and have sufficient distilled water to cover the plates. Store the battery in a room of moderate temperature. The charge of each cell should register between 1.250 and 1.300. Smear a little vasoline on the terminals to prevent corrosion.

Battery terminals should never be allowed to rust.

Oil should not be allowed to collect on wires.

BRITISH MAIDS IN RUSH TO WED

500 Willing in Reply To Ad By Canadian

WINNIPEG, Jan. 27.—If there are any lonely ranchers out on the Canadian prairies it is their own fault. There is an intimation that the mayor of Leicester, England, has lately received no less than 500 applications in reply to an advertisement inserted in a Leicester paper asking for "a wife for a lonely Toronto, Canada, bachelor."

The result was appalling. From Leicester, London, Glasgow and other points the replies piled in. The mayor has seen fit to publish some of the more humorous extracts from the letters:

Wants to Settle Down.
"I am 35 and I think I would like to settle down now," writes one applicant, who is evidently tired of spinsterhood.

A Canadian dandy thus proclaims his fears that he starts under a handicap: "I suppose I will not suit from the beginning, for I am Scotch. As you don't want a flapper I might suit because I have nothing fancy. You must get a young person, as the older ones get more crabbed."

Prefers Single Man.
Another lady wrote thus: "Having seen that you have taken up the duties of a matrimonial agent I am writing to ask you if you will kindly help me to get a husband. I prefer a single man if you have one on your list. Perhaps you will give me my heart's desire."

Apparently the mayor's generous desire to help his Toronto correspondent has earned him the reputation of being a matrimonial agent, for he has been asked by others to try to get wives for them.

56 Pct. of Ohio County Pupils Need a Doctor

BUCYRUS, Ohio, Jan. 27.—Fifty-six per cent of the school children need medical treatment and only twelve pupils out of an enrollment of 1,917 are not delinquent in posture, the annual report of Miss Margaret L. Schuchman, county health nurse, asserts.

Deficiencies are listed as follows: Defective vision, 72 per cent; defective teeth, 50 per cent; enlarged tonsils, 30 per cent; mouth breathing, 10 per cent; underweight, 12 per cent; defective hearing, 2 per cent.

of other years. He may come back someday although he admits that the lure of legislative life has lost its charm.

He was one of the spokesmen for labor while in the house, although a man of independent means, and the labor leaders and their followers had a vast deal of confidence in his judgment and freely accepted his advice. He was a power in a lawmaking sense and whatever Roger wanted had no trouble in getting by.

Dubney White is another old timer. He came from Tyler to say a word for Senator Tom Pollock's Court Reformation Bill. Senator Pollock started something akin to a prairie fire when he introduced a removal bill and all the lawyers of the district are piling in.

Former Senator John M. Henderson is here to oppose removal. His argument is that Texarkana is on the horizon of the state, whilst Tyler is on the far edge of the Eastern division; that there would be some argument for removal of a town in the center of the district had been designated.

Dubney White isn't a lawyer. He is a farmer, he owns an insurance association, and a newspaper and a string of cotton gins. He has time to run all these organizations and to manufacture literature at intervals. While here he will gather material for a newspaper article dealing with great men who have been Texas state senators either before or after service in the senate. He has made the discovery that the 18th and 19th senates had on the rostra more famous men than any other senates.

MARRIED HIM TO GET RID OF HIM

Telephone Operator Held As Bigamist

PORT ARTHUR, Jan. 27.—"Oh, I married him just to get rid of him. He bothered me so much I had to do something."

With a toss of her bobbed chestnut hair, Mrs. May Bowman-Adair, telephone operator, confessed bigamy, explaining her marriage on December 16, 1920, to Hugh W. Adair, she is held prisoner by Prosecutor A. Floyd Blakelee.

At the time she married Adair, the prisoner, slight of figure and pretty of face, says she had one husband, Theodore Borman, and a daughter, Lou.

"From the day of our marriage we fought," she said. "We had breakings and reconciliations and for a while lived at the home of his mother in Pontiac. She doesn't live here now. He made me disgusted during that time because he cried one day when he was sick."

"Then circumstances forced me to introduce my two husbands. I introduced Borman to Adair as my mother and my little girl as my niece. Borman knew of what had happened, I believe, but he said nothing. On February 22, 1922, I left Adair for good and went to Detroit, where I told Borman all about it. He advised me to get the Adair marriage all settled up and then come back to him."

An Open Letter From
Mr. Goodell:

Pierce-Goodell Piano Company
Keith Bldg.
BEAUMONT, TEXAS

Jan. 25, 1923.

Dear Friends:—

In opening our new store in Port Arthur, we feel we are in a true keeping faith with hundreds of our good customers who have purchased from us in the past, for which we list a large number of our best friends among the people of this city. We desire to be in a better position to serve them in the future than we have in the past; in another way we wish to display our confidence in the future we have in this city of which we wish to become a part.

In selecting Mr. K. C. Rogers as our manager for this store, we were not unmindful of the fact that he has been a resident of Port Arthur a long time, and thereby does not need any introduction to the people as a man of splendid reputation, who is always ready to be of service to his friends, who he welcomes to his new location.

It is our ambition to continue to serve our patrons, but in a better way—and to sell only such merchandise that will merit the fullest confidence in us.

Taking advantage of this opportunity to thank the people of southeast Texas for their generous patronage, with kindest wishes to all, we beg to remain,

Yours most respectfully,

E. S. GOODELL.

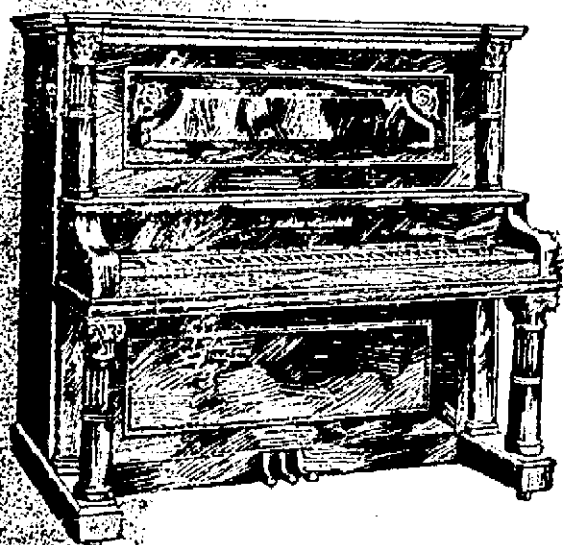

For the Lovers of 'Better Music' of Southeast Texas, The Pierce-Goodell Piano Company Opens a New Store at Port Arthur

EXPANSION is the key-note of this announcement—expansion of our service facilities and extension of our service to the lovers of better music. Always have we occupied a distinctive place in the minds of those appreciating the difference between merely selling musical instruments and talking machines and selling them with a backing of intelligent service. The opening of our new store in Port Arthur strengthens our position and further emphasizes our reputation—The Home of Better Music.

That Pierce-Goodell service has won an envious reputation distinctly its own is vouched for by hundreds of satisfied Pierce-Goodell customers into whose homes it has been our pleasure to place the world's highest grade instruments. As oldest and largest Victor dealers in Southeast Texas we are in a position to offer Victor service that is distinctly in a class of its own.

Pianos, Players, Uprights and Grands, Victor Victrolas, Victor Records, Q. R. S. Player Rolls, Aeolian Vocalion Talking Machines and Records—you will find all of these at the new Pierce-Goodell store in such a complete range of selection that choosing to suit individual taste is made easy.

Welcome to Visit Our Store and Inspect the Beautiful New Instruments on Display. A Suitable Souvenir Will Be Given Next Week to All Children Calling at Our Port Arthur Store Accompanied by Parent or Guardian.

Father Studies From Same Text Books as His Four Daughters at Night School

Franklin School Institution, With Instruction in Six Languages, Opportunity Land to Old-Young Folks.

Mrs. Philip Lydig

The father of four children, 15 years and older, helped them into their winter coats and walked away toward the Franklin school.

They were lost in a crowd entering the building to witness the high school play and may have been mistaken for momentary sojourners. But instead of entering the auditorium, they found their way to a little room at the end of the hall on the first floor.

Here the father and his four daughters discarded their wraps and found seats before a number of desks in the room. They brought forth books and presently buried their heads in them.

Studies With Daughters

Later News reporters came along to visit the little room and the father and his four daughters were pointed out to them. Here was quite a contrast. The father, Mexican, whose age was given at 11 and his youngest daughter, 15, used the same textbook.

"That is not so unusual to us who are here all the time," Miss Wayne Young explained. "You see I've been conducting night school for five years and I've had numerous similar cases."

"How is he progressing?"

Ambitions at 44

"The father? Why he has had an increase in salary at the Gulf company, where he is employed. Since he started coming to school here, he is ambitious and wants to get ahead."

"Ambitions at 44? When?"

Then it was explained that the man had no hopes of being president of the nation, but he did want to better his present position and earn more money for the welfare of his family.

"This man's name is De La Rosa. He lives in Houston avenue."

Although he is 44 he is not the oldest student of the night school here conducted by the city board of education at the Franklin school.

There's a night watchman said to be between 50 and 60, who manages to make about one class a week. When he does not remain for work in the school, he takes it home to prepare.

Six Nationalities Attend

Six nationalities are being taught by Miss Young, but she speaks only one language, English.

"How do you explain your work to a Spaniard who knows not a word of English?"

"It takes about a week," she replied. "We work with clearly illustrated books, with text matter under them. It is similar to primary work among young Americans."

"Now I've had a great deal of trouble establishing communications with a 25-year-old Holland girl, who was a student for about two weeks. Because I do not speak Dutch it took me nearly two weeks to learn that I could make myself clear by substituting the 'v' of our language for the 'w' of the Dutch."

One American Boy

There was one American boy in class Wednesday night, there were a number of Mexicans and a number of Spaniards, French, Dutch and Italian students.

The most remarkable feature of the work done by these pupils, from 15 to 55 years of age, is the progress they have shown in their daily jobs since becoming interested in night school.

Practically every man has been promoted to better jobs and more wages. It is understood, in many cases the men were changed from one shift to another to allow them to attend the night classes.

The attendance at the night school, conducted from 7 to 9 o'clock on Monday and Wednesday is over 90. When it rained so hard the other night 11 found their way through the mud and water to the school.

Makes Better Americans

"We all seem to think it a great work," Miss Young said. "We know that it is making better Americans out of many foreigners. That is our first purpose."

The writing on the blackboard at her side demonstrated her statement. Some of the questions on the board were:

"Why is governor of Texas?"

"What was the first president of the United States?"

"Name and define three branches of government."

"These questions," Miss Wayne said, "must be answered before foreigners can secure citizenship papers."

WOULD PAROLE LIFERS AFTER SERVING 25 YRS.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 27.—Removal of all women prisoners from the state prison and the discontinuance of the women's ward is recommended to the governor in the annual report of the directors of the institution.

It was also proposed that life prisoners be made eligible for parole after twenty-five years imprisonment.

COLORADO REFUSES ARMISTICE DAY TILTS

BOTTLING, Jan. 27.—Athletic authorities at the University of Colorado have refused a football game with Drake university at Des Moines, Ia., Armistice day.

A game was also declined with the University of West Virginia. This school offered the state university a game at Morgantown, W. Va., Nov. 17, and C. C. was compelled to decline because of conflicting dates.

SPECIALIZATION SUCCESS CODE

Dr. Callahan Brings Inspiring Message to Graduates

Specialization, skilled thinking and action, and service to mankind will guarantee the successful man of tomorrow. Dr. W. E. Callahan, president of Port Arthur College, declared in an address to the 26 seniors graduating from the Port Arthur high school Friday night.

Drawing a parallel between the man of today and the man of tomorrow, Dr. Callahan pointed out the displacement of manual labor by labor saving machinery. Education, today, he said, is broader and more comprehensive than that of yesterday.

Three-Fold Development.

"Schools and colleges are looking after the three-fold development of the student—physical, mental and spiritual," Dr. Callahan said. He referred to the 15 physical directors and supervisors in the Port Arthur schools, the use of the gymnasium and the use of the Gates Memorial library, as well as the text books.

"And schools and colleges are looking after the mental and spiritual development of their students," he said.

Growth of the Port Arthur schools and the need for increased building equipment for years to come was stressed by David Batten, president of the school board, in an address before he presented the diplomas to the 26 graduates. At the first graduation in 1922, the first in the history of the Port Arthur schools, 79 were graduated, while this year the senior class numbered 26, he said.

6,197 Now Enrolled.

"At the close of the fourth month of the 1922 school year, 5,185 students were enrolled, while at this time, 1923, we have an enrollment of 6,197, an increase over last year of 712 students," the school board president said.

"If next year we have the same increase that we have had this year, the school board will be confronted with a very serious housing problem. When the additions are completed, the high school building can accommodate approximately 1,000 students. At the present rate of increase, we are of the opinion that it will not be more than four years until the high school will again be filled to capacity."

Schools Crowded.

These conditions are brought to the attention of the community in order that the public may be counseling and advising with the school board as to how best to meet them, he declared. Until the additions to the DeQueen and high school buildings become available, the board does not see how it can do better than to keep the children that apply for entrance in the Port Arthur schools, Batten said, but gave assurance that every child will be taken care of, if possible.

"Indications are that the congestion will be more serious next fall than during the coming spring," he said.

GARAGE DEATH HOLE

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 27.—A warning to automobilists to keep the garage door open when "cranking up" the engine, Health Commissioner Rockwood says seven deaths here were due to monoxide gas from automobile engine exhausts last year.

Radio Tells Port Arthur Resources to 18 States

Letters Flood Station WFAH Here Following Distance Test; Chamber of Commerce May Use Facilities to "Tell the World"

Frank Stoneburner is doing something toward putting Port Arthur on the radio map with station WFAH here.

Mr. Stoneburner conducted a test to get his sending distances and the number in which his programs were heard, requesting all stations to reply by mail.

Clearly Heard Afar.

Letters and postal cards have since poured into his office telling how clear his transmissions carried. These messages came from California, Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Texas, Ohio, Indiana, Oklahoma, Nebraska, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, Michigan, and other states.

Walter Lethbridge wrote from San Rafael, Cal., 20 miles from San Francisco: "You sure came in fine. Will you mail me one of your programs?" Ray Blain of Omaha, Neb., wrote: "I had the pleasure of listening to several selections from your station WFAH."

Carl Strauss wrote from Orlando, Ind.: "Have just finished listening in and enjoyed it very much as it came in fine, considering the distance. We have heard from Havana, Cuba, and Los Angeles, Cal., but not as good as your station. We are investing in you while you are not enjoying the warm water of the Gulf."

To Tell Port Arthur's Resources.

All of the letters request the Port Arthur station to mail them a program of its contents, owing to the fact that it is evidently being heard in almost every part of the nation with distinctiveness.

It is understood that Mr. Stoneburner is going to arrange regular programs. When this is done, he is also going to invite the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping to put on informative talks about Port Arthur, its position in the shipping and industrial world and as a site for home-seekers.

SUGAR OUTPUT RECORD

TOLEDO, Ohio, Jan. 27.—Toledo's sugar refining industry contributed 51,000,000 pounds of the sweet to the national supply in the season just closed, the greatest in the history of the local market, according to figures made public here. Of this amount, the Continental Sugar Company plants produced 32,500,000 pounds, and the Toledo Sugar Company's plant at Rossford, 18,500,000 pounds.

VEGETARIANS

Five Pounds of Meat Daily Consumption by 200 DeQueen School Pupils Proves It, Says Miss Vivian Muntz.

DeQueen students are vegetarians, says Miss Vivian Muntz, a young lady who seems to know quite a bit about dietetics and who discusses food value, calories and cooking with as much ease as a veteran housekeeper.

"They don't eat much meat," she explained. "Of course I recall that they fed the football squad meat at college just before the big game, but here we use very little meat."

Little Meat Used

"With the exception of hamburgers, we buy five pounds of meat for 200 children. You can judge by that whether we have a school of meat-eaters or vegetarians."

The cafeteria at DeQueen is under the supervision of Miss Muntz, who also is head of the after-school class.

Average expenditure of students is from 10 to 15 cents per day, she says. Of course some spend more. The school lunchmen, as prepared by the cafeteria, is sold for nine cents.

Guarding Pie Counter

When students first began eating at the cafeteria and purchasing their food Miss Muntz thought that she would spend most of her time guarding the pie counter.

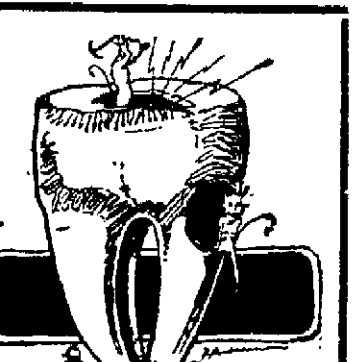

"You see, we never let them buy more than one piece of pie. Too much sweet food is not good for children."

As well as furnishing warm, wholesome food to 200 students every day at the DeQueen school, Miss Muntz also is teaching domestic science to those children employed in the cafeteria. They are taught to make all sorts of dishes and delicacies.

CALLS 'SURVIVORS' OF CUSTER FIGHT LIARS

MENASHIA, Wis., Jan. 27.—"Any one who claims to be a survivor of Custer's last stand at the Little Big Horn is a liar," Joseph T. Hill, Mexican survivor of the old Seventh United States cavalry, told Wisconsin National guardsmen of the Fox River valley in gathering here. Hill was on scout duty near the Little Big Horn, the scene of the battle, and said the only living survivor of that massacre was a lone horse, which was found afterward riderless, quietly grazing along the banks of the river.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES

There are $14,000,000,000 invested in tax exempt securities in the United States. The Green resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution which would prohibit further issuance of exempt securities has been adopted by the house. This resolution had the backing of President Harding and Secretary Mellon.

Representative Green of Iowa led the fight for the friends of the proposed amendment. Representative Garner of Washington led the fight for those opposed to the proposed amendment. Passage of the resolution required a two-thirds vote and the roll call stood 223 to 101.

Now why should $14,000,000,000 worth of gilt edge securities be exempt from taxation?

Why should the owners of large fortunes be permitted to place their money in these securities and escape their share of the burden of government?

Henry Ford never buys bonds. He made an exception in war time, when he purchased large blocks of Liberty bonds. Later he sold these bonds and invested their proceeds in productive industry.

Representative Garner offered amendments designed to prevent the levying of a prohibitive tax on state bonds or the imposition of a higher tax on income from state bonds that were levied on income from other sources. These amendments were voted down. Without discussion, the House refused to exempt federal farm loan and joint stock land banks from the provisions of the proposal.

Many of the clearest headed men in America predict that unless further issuance of exempt securities is prohibited by the government, productive industry will be the sufferer, and owners of large fortunes will be the beneficiaries; that some day there will be 25 billion dollars instead of 14 invested in these tax exempt securities, and the very rich will escape the tax collector, while the productive interests of America will be compelled to carry the load.

WISE OLD TURKS

Turkey has refused to accept the British proposal to refer the Mosul Oil dispute to the League of Nations. John Bull is determined to capture these rich oil fields. He has no more of a legal claim to Mosul than he has to the state of Texas but wherever there is oil, there is wealth and wherever there is oil there is hell.

Take Mexico for instance. First the oil kings demanded that their attorneys should draft a new constitution for Mexico and that the Mexican government should accept it. Having failed in this, they have prevented the recognition of the Obregon government by the United States government.

President Harding is trailing along in the path blazed by a former president, Woodrow Wilson.

A WISE WOMAN

George de Pont Pratt was a Standard Oil millionaire. He died leaving his fortune to his widow. She died the other day and then it was found that she had made good use of her money. Her will contains specific bequests of $250,000 to individuals and charities, $20,000 to the National Child Labor committee; $20,000 to the New York Child Labor committee; $25,000 to the Settlement Workers of Glen Cove; $25,000 to the Christian Science Benevolent association in Massachusetts and smaller gifts too numerous to mention.

It must be true that women are much more generous than men, although the late John Wauwacker made splendid use of his millions, but he did not make his money in oil.

CONVICT ROADBUILDERS

Texas has a penitentiary problem. Texas has had a penitentiary problem for more than fifty years, and yet the convicts would make splendid roadbuilders and all the people need the roads.

HERCULES ON DECK

Twelve armed bandits in the cit of Chicago drilled through a vault and stole 600 cases of whisky. Six hundred cases of whisky must have made some load for twelve armed bandits when they made their successful get away. It would have taken a hundred Dr. Attiens Webbs to have carried away 600 cases of whisky and the 100 would have been compelled to make more than one trip.

A COSTLY BUILDING

Now the University lands are to be sold again. These lands comprise approximately 2,100,000 acres. This reminds the writer of Don A. Biggers story or estimate of the cost of the capital building.

This unique man from the West says the Farwell syndicate was given three or four million acres in lieu of cash to furnish the people of Texas their massive public building. Time rolled on, and the four million acres had a value, in the remote past, of $65,000,000,000.

This made the Texas capital the most costly building ever erected since the beginning of time.

WEAK EYES

According to a Smithville correspondent in the examination of 547 pupils in the primary grades of the public schools 491 were found defective. This could not have happened in the good old days. In the good old days they did not employ defective hunters. Now the world is very wise and the experts say it is very weak.

JONES PAYS THE TAX

Now some of the motor owners of the state are tearing their locks. W. A. Williamson, president of the San Antonio Automobile Dealers association, declares that some of the legislators have gone hog-wild in their efforts to further tax automobiles. Isn't it true that the ultimate consumer always pays the freight?

Isn't it true that all special taxes are passed on to Jones? Jones does not travel in a buckboard.

King Henry of Detroit has abolished the buckboard, and if there is a 1c or a 2c tax per gallon on gasoline it's a cinch that the owner of the motor vehicle will dig down in his pocket for it. There is no other way out.

FRENCH TO THE CORE

Many thousands of steel workers in the Ruhr district have gone on strike as a protest against the German invasion. All the trained workers of Ruhr are going on strike. This may lead to their deportation. Their places will be taken by French workers and in the end, the Ruhr valley will be French to the core.

WHY?

Senator Bledsoe and Representative Chitwood are the authors of a West Texas college bill which has been reported out by the senate and house committees without a dissenting vote. Senator Bledsoe is the author of a West Texas college bill. The bill hasn't received the approval of the senate or the house and carries the endorsement of President Hill of the West Texas Normal College.

YOU AND I

VANISHING

Plant a tree and get free honorary membership in American Tree Association. It hopes to induce a million of us to set out at least one tree this year. Let's make it two millions, or more.

You appreciate the forestry problem if you recently have had to buy any lumber. Lumber is vanishing, along with the forests. Our national lumber production now is less than 27 billion board-feet a year, compared with 46 billion in 1905, though our woodmen are attacking the forests more vigorously than ever. Like liquor—the cask is getting emptier.

BUILDING

About six billion dollars worth of building will be completed by Americans this year, estimates Copper and Brass. Its research Association. Here's how it'll be divided: For each $254 for industrial buildings, $900 will be spent for apartment houses, $106 for churches, $720 for dwellings (homes), $436 for hospitals, $852 for hotels, $676 for office buildings, $252 for public buildings, $124 for public garages and $1180 for schools. The largest expenditure is for schools—and should be.

FINLEY A FUR PROTECTOR

Representative James Finley is a farmer. He introduced a bill providing game regulations for fur bearing animals. Representative A. C. Dunn is a Presbyterian elder and the chairman of an American Legion post. Dunn insisted that monkeys and skunks should be exempt from the provision of the bill. Never for a second did the representative from Falls county stand for anything that smacked evolution. He deeply sympathized with Representative Stanley of Navarro county who would snipe the entire monkey tribe and exterminate the tribe with a single snipe.

PASSES FOR PEACE OFFICERS

Senator John Davis of Dallas recently has introduced a bill to amend the anti-pass law so that railroad men may issue passes to peace officers upon request. James Stephen Hogg insisted that the people should give their peace officers for railroad hire or transportation and that the railroads of the state should not be burdened or permitted to issue passes except to railroad employees. Senator Davis was born on a rocky farm, he knows that long hikes blister the feet, and that a sheriff is a human being, although many sheriff's vests think coated brigands and when they step on a law violator he shrieks for mercy.

WHAT IS THE ANSWER?

There are 40 Texas sheriffs in the city of Austin pushing for bills and the adjutant general, T. D. Barton recommends the appointment of 125 rangers for active service wherever they are needed.

There are rangers in Texas, who do that in the days when Texas had 4,000 saloons and as many gambling houses 20 or 30 rangers were sufficient and the sheriffs made life miserable for law violators.

As John Barlowen was held responsible in those days for crime and criminals, the rangers and the sheriffs must have been busy men. Incidentally, in Texas there were more than 1,000 homicides in Texas last year and this is a record never made in the somewhat good old days. Now just what is the answer?

It would be all in the family, says Bryan was related to Davis through the latter's middle name.

"How interesting," said a lady who was distinctly related to Mr. Bryan. "I never knew before that there was any relation."

On a subsequent occasion the same guest told the story with evident delight to Mr. Bryan himself.

Mr. Davis looked puzzled, then remarked, "Well, I've never looked on my family tree, but that's the first time I've heard I was related to Bryan."

Let me tell you a few American jokes. Once on a time, as most people will recall, William J. Bryan ran for president and his running mate was Henry Glas-sawny Davis.

Bryan was related to Davis through the latter's middle name.

Wignall Donates His Services in Drafting Department Club Home

Drafting of plans for the proposed $5,000 club house for the Department of this city, will be done without cost by Roy Wignall, Port Arthur architect, officials in the Department announced Saturday. A site for the club house will be determined Monday afternoon when Department officials meet with the city commissioners and city park board.

Several sites for the structure were suggested by Mrs. R. L. Lattimore and Mrs. Roy Wignall, Department club officials, when they met with the city commission Friday afternoon.

Among these locations was one in Lake Shore Park in the 2700 block, and another in one of the crescent-shaped plots between the Lake Shore drive property and the drive.

Pending the called meeting of the park board Monday, the commissioners said they were unable to give any definite assurances that either of these sites could be turned over to the club for the proposed structure.

THE DERELICT

The One-Man Woman
DAN'S TRUNK
By Ruth Agnes Eeeling

KATE WARD, widow of DAN WARD, living with her father, JUSTIN PARSONS, has a visitor, CHINATOWN ALICE, who says Dan was father of her child.

DOROTHY, Kate is much perturbed. A few evenings later Kate and her father find the unconscious victim of an auto crash near their house and carry him in. Recovering, he says he is JAMES LATHAM.

He was Kate's fond, of him, yet still devoted to Dan's memory, she does not know what to do. Then it develops that Latham was acquainted with Dan in an old fishing shack the latter owned and which may contain papers throwing a light on his romance with Alice. The two men together to the shack.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

"I haven't the keys and don't suppose anyone knows where they are now, but we may be able to get in through a window," said Latham as he tried the door of the fishing shack and met sturdy resistance.

"They went to a window at the side. That, too, resisted their efforts to pass it."

"In pretty good shape or a cabin that has been deserted for so long—don't suppose it has been used much since that last day I saw Dan here," Latham was still working at the window.

"Break the glass—we'll have to get in somehow," Kate commanded. "and if it's my property I have a right to it. Even if it weren't mine, I'd risk any kind of trespass prosecution to get the trunk."

Latham gave the glass a smart blow with his hand. It splintered. He pushed out the pieces so the frame was clear and then climbed into the cabin. Kate stood patiently at the door while he drew back the heavy bolts. Once inside he scanned the place and then noticed the trunk in the large room which the building contained.

"This is it—I know it, isn't it?" eagerly.

She was on her knees before a small trunk, working with the fastenings.

"It's locked," she said after a few seconds.

"Yes, I think the only way we can open it will be to break the lock," "Break it," from Kate.

Latham sat at the task. Kate stood near and watched him. It affected her strangely. Somehow the opening of this little old trunk which had been the property of her husband seemed like the discovery of some sacred place. It had been Dan's. He had looked it up and gone away. Now strange hands were setting ruthlessly at it. Curious eyes would search the contents. She felt that she must stop it!

"Jimmy—" the words were on her lips.

"Yes, dear," Latham, on his knees at the trunk, did not look up.

"Wait—wait—let it—let it—Kate stopped speaking.

The lock snapped. The trunk was open. There, at her feet, lay things that had been his. His football clothes, with the soil of the game on them; his fishing things, as if he had just stepped out of them; a sweater, with the creases still in the sleeves as if they must have covered his arms only yesterday.

Kate turned away.

"Please close it, Jimmy," Her tone was colorless.

Latham softly returned the cover to its place and then sat motionless on the floor while Kate stared out of the window.

JAWBREAKERS
And How You Pronounce 'Em

Pronouncing the jaw-breaker names in European news is easy—if you know how.

And it's easy to know how. Read this list of names and after five minutes you'll be able to talk with the best of them and pronounce names right out loud instead of saying, "That French guy" or "that German town."

Here's your education condensed:

Benito Mussolini, Italian premier—Ben-ne-to (accent on nee) Mus-so-lee-nee (accent on lee).

Raymond Poincare, French premier—Ray-mond Poin-caree (all syllables equally accented).

Alexandre Millerand, French president—Ah-lok-sav-ang-ah, Mee-yeh-rang (all syllables equally accented).

Vilhelm Cuno, German chancellor—Vil-helm (accent on vil) Koon-ah (accent on koo).

Hugo Stinnes, German capitalist—Hoo-ga (accent on hoo) Stin-ness (accent on Stin). Stin-ness also is correct.

Mustapha Kemal Pasha, Turkish leader—Mus-tah-fah (accent on musht) Kye-mahl (accent on kye) Pah-shah (accent on shah).

Mosul, Turkish city—Mos-sul (accent on sool).

Ismael Pasha, Turkish diplomat—Iss-met (accent on met) Pah-shah (accent on shah).

Friedrich Ebert, German president—Freed-rikh (accent on free) Eeb-ert (accent on ay).

Fritz Thyssen, German magnate—Fritz Thy-sen (accent on too).

Dusseldorf, German city—Dus-sel-dorf (accent on dees).

Bonn, German city—Bon-ahn (accent on boh).

Monsieur Jonquille permitted the marble square to go back into its place, and he returned to his chair. The Oriental sat down beyond him, speechless in his amazement. The Prefect of Police continued to speak as though the man's concern were not a thing which he had observed.

"And so you see, monsieur, we have here the motive, the opportunity, and the construction of these false evidences, to indicate that you were the assassin of Derenburg Pasha. And again I beg you to observe how fatal it is to proceed with indicatory evidences when one wishes to establish a theory. It is fortunate, monsieur, that it is I who considered these evidences again; you, for it is I who know that Derenburg Pasha was dead when you arrived in this house."

He paused.

And from the wound in his throat, I saw at once what had happened. That inflicted it—a hand not now living.

"The hand of the dead man?" rejoined the Oriental. "You mean the hand of a dead man?"

"I mean the hand of the dead Derenburg Pasha," replied the Prefect.

"The wound began heavily on the left side, and faded off to the right. That is the mark of a suicide. Death wounds, inflicted by one intent on taking his own life, are always in the left side, because they are undertaken with the right hand, and if they are done with a knife, they begin with a heavy incision that tails out as the knife is drawn to the right—as the strength of the person undertaking to inflict the wound diminishes. Suicidal wounds, when inflicted with a sharp instrument, have always these evidential signs. They cannot be mistaken."

Monsieur Jonquille arose.

"Let me clear this mystery," he said. "Derenburg Pasha was one of the most accomplished counterfeits in the world."

He opened his hand.

"This device, which looks like an abductor box, is a mold made of plaster for the purpose of counterfeiting one of the large coins of the French currency. Derenburg came here, took this house, carried forward his undertaking until he had stored the squares under this drawing-room with false coins. Then when he had finished—when he had got the coins moulded, gold-plated and hidden, ready for the business of their distribution, I called on him last night. It was my voice that was heard outside. I showed him that he was at the end of his tether—that the house was guarded; and I came away leaving open to him the only escape he had. He effected that escape with a razor drawn across his throat."

Monsieur Jonquille paused, his voice firm, even and unbroken.

"You appeared, monsieur, a little later, and seeing an opportunity to obtain an indemnity from France for a murdered subject of your country, you put the razor into your pocket and clumsily dabbed the white squares of this drawing-room floor with the evidential signs of an assassination."

Plans for Port Arthur Music Week Nearing Completion

OBSERVANCES TO BEGIN ON EASTER

Tentative Program Already Is Outlined

Out of the meeting of the city's Music Week committee scheduled for Monday at luncheon in Franklin school, will come definite plans for Port Arthur's 1923 Music Week. The first of April, Miss Hortense Smith, director of music in the city schools, and chairman of the music week committee, said Saturday.

"The idea of Music Week is not simply to provide musical entertainments for Port Arthur for a brief period of time, but to stimulate the general public's interest in music and musical affairs," Miss Smith said. "The tentative program for Port Arthur's 1923 Music Week has been arranged so that every phase of music, old and new, will be presented to the city."

"A sort of evangelistic spirit has prompted music lovers to arrange music weeks throughout the United States," Miss Smith said. "Because they believe a better understanding of music makes better communities and better citizens. Not a single Port Arthur musician or music lover has any self-praise or glorification in mind in working for this city's music week," she said.

Representative Organization. Members of the city's music committee have been appointed from the Young Men's Business League, the Lions, Civitan and Rotary clubs, and various other organizations in the city. The tentative program which has been drawn up by this committee is as follows:

Easter Sunday, April 1. Sermons on music and special music by the churches in all of Port Arthur churches for the morning services, and sacred concerts by the church choirs in the evening. A vesper musical entertainment at 5 o'clock Easter Sunday afternoon, featuring religious musical compositions, and the recently organized Symphony Orchestra, Frank W. Kern, conductor.

Monday, Thursday, Saturday. Mrs. W. H. Lounsbury, his wife and a flutist will present a program of Indian music. Lounsbury is an authority on Indian music, having been sent out by the Smithsonian Institute to make records of the songs and compositions of the Indians. Taking the themes thus recorded, Lounsbury has composed numbers of Indian songs and instrumental numbers. His company presents their program in costume.

Texas Composers Coming. Tuesday, Texas Composers program, sponsored by Mrs. Fred P. Dodge. It is planned to have several Texas composers with national reputations come to Port Arthur for the week program and present their compositions.

Wednesday, "Ye Old Time Concert." featuring music of past generations, with part of the program devoted to modern music in order to show the contrast between the music of today and that familiar to the music of a former day. This program will probably be arranged by centuries, and given in the costumes of each period from which the music is taken.

Thursday, Out-of-Town Artists' Concert. to be presented by vocalists and instrumentalists from Houston, Galveston, Beaumont and various other cities throughout Texas. The out-of-town artists' concert presented last year during Port Arthur's music week proved one of the most popular of the week's events, and plans for an even larger out-of-town artists' concert this year are underway.

School Choral Classes. Friday, Public School Day. Choral classes of all the public schools in Port Arthur will be featured on this program, and a special musical fete on the Franklin school campus is planned.

Saturday, the school band and orchestras will give concerts, the band to play in Lions Park, and the orchestra to present a concert in Franklin school auditorium, according to the present plans.

Other events to be included in the week will be special musical programs at the luncheons of the Lions, Rotary and Civitan clubs. Printed programs for the entire week will be distributed in the city, Miss Smith said, in order that everyone may keep posted on the musical events.

Can furnish buyer for lots near Franklin School, Phone 298, Eubank & Downing.

MUSIC MEMORY CONTEST NUMBERS

Joining with other Texas schools in competition for the awards in the state music memory contest, to be held in the spring, students in the Port Arthur schools are being prepared for entering the contests by music supervisors in the city school, Miss Hortense Smith, said Saturday.

Here is a list of the numbers which the students have to be familiar with in order to win out in the contest:

1. Minuet in G—Bach.
2. Moonlight Sonata, First Movement—Beethoven.
3. Turkish March—Ruin of Athens—Bach.
4. Torador Song, Carmen—Bizet.
5. Cradle Song—Brahms.
6. Hungarian Dance No. 5—Brahms.
7. Fantasia Impromptu—Chopin.
8. Funeral March—Chopin.
9. Minute Waltz—Chopin.
10. The Bee—Franz Schubert.

HATFIELD DROPS FEUD AS HE JOINS THE NAVY
CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 27.—Duoy Hatfield, 21 years old, son of a former governor of West Virginia, has joined the navy.

"I'm not the bad boy people think I am. I am joining the navy to get away from the hills for a time," said Young Hatfield at the receiving office. "I have had enough of shooting. Let bygones be bygones. I want the McGees (principals in the famous Hatfield-McGee feud) to know that I do not harbor any grudge against them."

Young Hatfield's only immediate relative yet living after the many years of feud is his sister Ethel.

CLEVELAND MAYOR GETS KNOCKS IN MAIL
CLEVELAND, Jan. 27.—Mayor Kohler's mail contains as many bricks as bouquets, he points out to newspapermen recently. He showed them a letter from a "knocker" in Cleveland Heights. The writer found fault with Kohler's "grandstand plans," criticized him for "always calling in the reporters when you want to put something on the pan," and closed as follows: "Knowing, of course, that this won't be published, I thank you for reading this letter and getting so red in the face." The mayor handed the letter to the reporters.

WOMEN OFF FOR TRIP ACROSS SAHARA ALONE

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Two society women, veterans of the first journey made by women unaccompanied across the Mojave desert in southern California have left Algiers on the first leg of their new adventure—crossing the Sahara desert alone.

The women are Mrs. Edna Bush Perkins, wife of Dr. Roger Perkins, of Cleveland, and Mrs. Charlotte H. Jordan, wife of Edward S. Jordan, of Cleveland.

Before attempting the expedition over the Sahara the women plan to live for several months in tiny towns in the shelter of the Atlas mountains, on the border of the desert.

In the operation sheep glands were attached to the pancreas. They relieve the work of the pancreas, for two years, giving it a chance to recuperate and become normal, physicians of the hospital said.

Mexico City Team Accepts Challenge of Good Gulf for Game Here

Announcement Follows Lengthy Negotiations

Spanish Quintet, On Tour Of States, Makes First Appearance Of Trip In Franklin Gym February 6.

BY "BILL" ARCHER

THROUGH the activity of the Good Gulf Basketball, Port Arthur has secured the biggest basketball game of the season for Tuesday night, February 6.

A crew of lanky Spaniards and Americans from Mexico City, on a tour of the United States which begins in February, will open their itinerary in the "stater" in Port Arthur.

The game will be the meeting of two fast exponents of an international pastime, battling from many countries, and Franklin gym will be the battle ground.

PICKETT SIGNS TILT
Manager J. M. Pickett of the Good Gulf crew learned of the advent of the Mexico City five over a week ago, and entered negotiations for the clash with the team, headed by H. G. Underwood, an American, at once. Following a series of letters and telephonic communications, Pickett announced Saturday that the team had been listed and the game scheduled for Port Arthur February 6.

INVADERS STRONG
The Mexico City team, which originated in the Mexican Y. M. C. A. in the capital city, is reputed to be one of the strongest that will come to this country this season.

They want the Good Gulf's scalp, and they're coming all the way from Old Mexico to get it. They're heard about the strength of the Good Gulf basketball, according to Underwood's message yesterday to Pickett, and they feel they have a better team.

STATES VS MEXICO
The fact that the game will be one of an international aspect—a fast team from the United States matched against a fast team from Mexico—is expected to be one of the biggest features for the February drawing card.

The Spaniards have had a career that will tally close with that of the Good Gulf. They have not yet lost a game, and their conqueror looms up only in the local contingent.

FIRST GAME IN U. S.
With the initial clash of their tour of this country slated for Port Arthur, it is up to the Good Gulf team to put the crimp in their feathers to carry back to Mexico City as a memento of the country's third port, and it is likewise up to the fans of Port Arthur to support the team and help them to win.

The Spanish contingent has come planned even as far as Chicago, and it is rumored here that they are en route through Texas, Oklahoma, and on to Chicago, where they are planning to participate in a big tournament.

GIVES GULF BIG REP
A victory over them will give Port Arthur the right to claim a place in the Chicago A. C. tourney at Pickett and "Tollie" Forbes' protégés want it.

That fact alone is an asset to the local boys.

And the game, news of which came as no surprise in Port Arthur, indicates the wide reputation which the Gulfies have won.

TRIANGLES ALSO COMING
Preceding the invasion of the Spaniards, the Houston Triangles have been listed for a return game here February 3.

The game itself is of much importance to the future progress of the Gulf contingent, inasmuch as the Triangles put the first notch in the local players' basketball glory, when they defeated the Port Arthurians in Houston not long since.

The Triangles claim the only victory over Port Arthur's Good Gulf crew, that the locals have lost this season. The return game here early in February means a chance to retrieve that honor, and the Triangles will undoubtedly face a fresher foe or five February 3 than they met soon after the Rice Institute clash.

MAKES $150 GUARANTEE
Coach Forbes and Manager Pickett wired the Spaniards Saturday following receipt of a letter from Underwood advising that too Mexico City Y. M. C. A. team could play here February 6. Although that date is only three days behind a game which the Gulfies have been looking forward to, the date was accepted.

A guarantee of $150, underwritten by the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping, was offered by Manager Pickett, and has been accepted by the Mexico City five.

MAY APPEAR UP-CITY
During their stay in this section of the country, the Spaniards will possibly appear in Beaumont at the Beaumont Y. M. C. A. team strong enough to clash with the Mexico City crew; there has not been secured, it is understood.

Beaumont Y. officials, it has been learned, have been negotiating with the local Gulf team for a match between the two clubs to be staged "in the north end." However, Manager Pickett has made no definite announcement as to whether the Good Gulfers would appear in Beaumont against the Spaniards or not.

EXPECT MANY FANS
Sitting facilities sufficient to care for a large crowd for the February 6 game are being arranged, and Manager Pickett is planning to take care of the largest crowd of basketball fans in the history of the city.

It is expected that the game will be a close one, and the referee will be a local one.

ANOTHER "GOLF" MEET

BY BILLY EVANS

Baseball had its big thrill in 1922 when the New York Giants and Yankees met in the world series. Golf had many a classic during 1922. The defeat of Walter Hagen, British open champion, by Gene Sarazen, United States open champ, was the climax to a season of thrills, the world series of golf.

The world series of tennis was staged when the United States again proved its superiority in the Davis cup competition.

While "barney golf" which is merely a high-toned name for plain horseshoes, may not combine all the thrills of other sports, yet it is the first sport to each year stage its big event.

The world series of "barney golf" is scheduled for the week of February 19 at St. Petersburg, Fla. Offer the Prize List

Prizes aggregating $5000 will be distributed among the winners in both the division for men and women. Believe me some of the women throw a mean horseshoe. They are always noted for their control.

Like real golf, titles don't last very long in barney golf. Seven national tournaments have been held in five years, four at St. Petersburg and one each at Akron, Minneapolis and Des Moines. It is a rather interesting fact that no national champion has been able to repeat.

Frank Landin, the present champion, and the winner to ever hold the title, is confident that he will break all precedent at the St. Petersburg tourney and win the national honors twice in succession.

Six Champions Entered
Frank Jackson of Kelleston, Ill., has twice held the honor. Other national champions have been Fred Brust of Columbus, George May of Akron, O., Charles Hobbit of Lancaster, O., and C. C. Davis of Columbus.

It is practically certain that every champion who has ever held the "barney golf" title will be present at the St. Petersburg tourney. That means the cream of the talent will fight for the honor of winning the championship of the coming year.

It is really remarkable the accuracy that is maintained by the champion horseshoe pitchers in their big matches. Every one of the champions averages better than an orange out of every two pitches, when at the top of their game. What say?

OLD LINE-UPS IN MANY OF 1922 MAJOR SQUADS

Managers Not Pleased With Material Out Now

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Most of the major league managers are not satisfied over the material they have to work with next season, but the majority will start with practically the same clubs they had last year.

The two champion clubs will start the season with just about the same lineups they had in 1922.

John McGraw says he is satisfied with his world's champion Giants and the world probably will rise up and remark—"Why shouldn't he be?"

The National League champions, however, will have two newcomers—Jimmy McConnel and Jack Bentley, who cost the club close to $200,000. What this pair will do to earn their price will be one of the features of the season.

If the Yankees succeed in getting Eddie Collins from the White Sox, they ought to be a much improved team and they will have to be to win the 1923 pennant.

Collins, it is said, is a young Sox pitcher in reserve, would not make the Yanks the losers even if they had to part with Messers, Ward and Hoy.

With Collins at second, the Yanks would have an infield almost as good as McGraw's million-dollar combination and with Falk in the garden, the American League champs would have at least one fielder.

Jackie Robinson's "division" to retire if he doesn't get the salary that Gary Herrmann says he will not accept will force Pat Moran to make a change in his infield. The Red Leader probably will put Fosshee on first, if Daubert does not report, and it would be a fortunate move as John McGraw thinks that Fosshee is one of the best first base prospects in baseball.

Make your work easier.

It is said that "work will kill a horse." How much more true than it must be of a woman? You can lessen your work a lot—in fact almost entirely do away with the drudgery of ironing if you use an American Beauty electric iron—the best iron made.

We will be glad to show them to you next time you are up town.

VAN'S STUFF

A lot here and there among Port Arthur College's Athletics.

Ask Frank why he's been given the non-deplume of "Police Chief" at Port Arthur College dormitory.

Wonder what makes Davis so mischievous, especially after dark?

They ought to make a certain fellow I know "dean of boys" rather than captain of the basketball squad.

SUNDAY'S MORAL: Beware of a court star when he's trying to study.

Joe Pine shows evidences of having a strong tendency for blondes.

Don voyage, Joe, but blonde or brunette, they're all just alike.

A "devil" on the basketball field and an "angel" at all other times. That's easy. It must be Delhomme.

"There's a reason," said Farrow with a snappy smile, when asked why he did not appear on the College Special car after the game at Nederland.

And we may be wrong, but we think we know.

PREP SCHOOL TURNING OUT REAL GRID STARS
Paul B. Church, former Purdue University football star, is certainly turning out real football players at the Elgin, Ill., high school.

Either Church is a great coach or else they grow star footballers out that way. Possibly the great success of teams representing Elgin is due to a combination of both.

It is a rather interesting fact that every player of the 1920 team that wore the Elgin colors made good at football in college.

The outstanding star of the team in a college was Farwick, who started at guard for West Point last season and was mentioned on several all-eastern honor lists.

NEXT SPEEDWAY CELEBRATION ON LOCAL GROUND

Cancel Houston Race; Port Arthur Track Progresses

At the eleventh hour the races at Houston, Texas, for Sunday, at the Houston Speedway, were called off, and Port Arthur, local driver, cancelled his engagement to drive there today.

Huston announced cancellation of his date for the dirt track at Houston yesterday afternoon following communication with Manager Hoskins of the Speedway.

Negotiations for the Buck Four, the five-minute hour race which Huston has been on a trade for several days past, are still under way. It was said here yesterday that it was believed the car will be sold to the Port Arthur track artist, although several other racers are known to be on a trade for it also.

Huston was scheduled to drive the hour in the races today which were called off. He has had a try at the car before when he visited in Houston and tested the Indianapolis motor out, pronouncing it a speedy demon.

With the cancellation of the races at Houston, the next Speedway entertainment in this section of Texas will possibly be held on the Port Arthur Speedway March 1. This information was introduced yesterday by Huston, who said that plans are now under way to bring a large number of fast entries to the opening engagement, in which he and several other local drivers will participate.

Construction work on the Speedway here will be completed by that time, or in such a condition that it will be possible to hold a meet, and as it is the intention of the operators of the track to hold races on the new site as early as possible, all plans are being rushed toward that end.

LOUISIANA PRO TIES UP WITH WALTER HAGEN

Play Knotted After Thrilling San Antonio Tourney

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Jan. 27.—Bill Melhorn, Shreveport professional, missed a three-foot putt on the 18th green at the Municipal course here Saturday afternoon while 5,000 people held their breath and $700,000 (bitted from his grasp) at least temporarily, for his five on that hole gave him only a tie for first place with Walter Hagen, American holder of the British championship. They each shot 278, which is five below par and two below the score with which Bob McDonald of Chicago won the 1922 Texas open championship here.

The tie will be played off in a match of 18 holes, played starting at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. Tournament officials tonight are wondering how long on earth they will handle the gallery.

It was a thrilling finish to a great tournament. Hagen's course record of 65 in the morning Saturday brought him from a tie with Jim Barnes, fifth to a lead in the tournament of three strokes. Melhorn, who played a 68 and a 69 Friday and enjoyed a five stroke at the end of the day, slipped to second with 311 for a total after Hagen's 65 had been turned in giving the British titleholder 408 for 31 holes, two-thirds of the route.

Hagen started wobbling in the first nine of his Saturday afternoon round while Melhorn braced and at the ninth they were even.

Hagen came in beautifully with a 31, winding up with a 15 foot putt on the last green for a three Melhorn, in the last four-hole of the day, got a long drive but his approach was off to the side of the green. His third putt hit 3 feet from the cup and Hagen, standing nearby, looked gloomy. But the Shreveport man buckled in on a putt he would ordinarily have holee easily and missed by inches, taking five. It was more or less a Hagen-Melhorn fight. Joe Kirkwood, Australia, third, was 11 strokes behind with 210.

Denver, Jan. 27.—The University of Colorado basketball team won't "show" this year.

The answer is easy. They haven't got anything.

Tuesday night at the Denver "Y," the Silver and Gold athletes lost to Craig Baker, a "senior" team of the house league, 36 to 20.

Finally, Herman Schaefer, now dead, borrowed a raincoat and umbrella from a fan and appeared at his position at second in that regular.

"He was the funniest sight I ever saw on the ball field, raincoat buttoned high up, umbrella in one hand, glove on the other.

"That was too much for Evans," he called it.

Boy Scout Troops Enter Basketball Tournament Soon

With schedule arrangements completed, the Port Arthur Boy Scout launch off next Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Franklin gym on a basketball tournament which will last for seven weeks.

To the winner of the tournament, a prominent banker will give a silver cup.

The games will be played every Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock until the tourney is ended, and the winning team decided.

The schedule, as announced last night, follows:

Initial Games.
Troop 4 vs. Troop 10.
Troop 6 vs. Troop 15.
Troop 7 vs. Troop 12.
Troop 8 vs. Troop 14.

Winners of the first two contests and the latter two then are paired, and the winners of these two clashes then meet for championship honors.

Officials announced last night for the play include:

HOW SCHAEFER FORCED UMPIRE TO CALL GAME
"The funniest situation I ever saw staged on the ball field happened in Cleveland back in 1906 or 1907," says Charley O'Leary, now assistant to Miller Huggins at New York.

"I was playing shortstop for Detroit at the time. When the game started it looked like rain. Cleveland made three runs in the last of the fourth. It looked as if we were beaten and of course we decided to play for rain.

"Billy Evans was doing the umpiring. In the first of the fifth I started to sprinkle and we started to do everything possible to delay the game and annoy the umpire.

"Evans refused to be annoyed, and when our side was finally retired it was raining pretty hard. That made it a ball game and we were anxious for Bill to call it.

"Nothing doing," he replied. "You boys exposed yourself so much the last inning, it's a shame to deprive you of your fun."

"We played the next three innings in a driving rain. There was no chance of either side making a run. Evans let on he enjoyed the rain and was deaf to our entreaties to call it.

"Finally, Herman Schaefer, now dead, borrowed a raincoat and umbrella from a fan and appeared at his position at second in that regular.

"He was the funniest sight I ever saw on the ball field, raincoat buttoned high up, umbrella in one hand, glove on the other.

"That was too much for Evans," he called it.

CALL BASEBALL MEETING FOR LOCAL FANDOM

Possibilities of Another Twilight League Looming

BY "TAB"

That a meeting of all persons interested in baseball and in the possibilities of another Port Arthur Twilight League will be called in the very near future has been intimated from all sides during the past week. However, no definite steps in that direction have as yet been taken.

Interest in the league for 1923 is, apparently, more strong than it was last season, and baseball, although the season itself is some distance off, is being talked on every corner.

That there are practically as many baseball fans here as even Beaumont can boast with its Texas League club is also apparent, and the material to draw from is not lax either.

Several business men here who took a prominent interest in the municipal sport last year have expressed an interest again this year, and the possibilities are that baseball and a ball league will take on a prominent aspect within the very near future.

At the meeting, which has not been scheduled, but which is being called for by numerous fans and players here, a manager, president, secretary, etc., will be named, it is believed, and the problem of whether the city shall have a six-team league or an eight-team organization will be threshed out.

HAS HIGH HOPES FOR DENVER
DENVER, Jan. 27.—Larger fields to conquer.

"That's the ambition of Manager Jack Kanner for his two Denver battalions, Tommy Commiskey and Jack Doyle.

Jack intends to wage Monday for an extended tour of the east and take Commiskey and Doyle with him. Tommy Walsh is handling Kanner's interests around Chicago, looking what fights he can until the Denver two arrives. The boys will box in Milwaukee and Detroit and other cities where they can be matched.

BILL MCCARTHY LOSES THE SUPPORT OF OWN LEAGUE
President Bill McCarthy probably lost more than he could make out when he attacked Judge Landis on the "draft" rule. The Pacific Coast League of which he is president, refused to sustain him or endorse his attitude. Take it all with a grain of salt, however, for baseball men just love publicity, and what's more, know how to get it.

Texaco Stars Training Hard for Invasion of Sour Lake Grounds

New Faces Appear As Next Tilt Approaches

Outlook For Texas Company Five Good; Have Clash Carded Here For 13th; "Pug" Plays Hard Game.

With negotiations under way for clashes with several fast teams on the basketball court, the Texaco Stars of the Texas Company have settled down to hard training for invasion of Sour Lake February 3.

Coach Abbey is putting his men through a system of training that he believes will bring them out on top in every tilt they encounter the rest of the season.

BLINDING CLEAN SLATE.

So far, the Texaco Stars have an unprecedented record on the court. Their schedule this year has been a washout, although their standing is not with the class of basketball teams.

Beaumont 11, practically the only one of hawks, the local contingent is taken into camp in the host of them, and Coach Kennedy's progress is no match for the Texas company boys at all.

FTER BIG GAMES.

After that clash, Coach Abbey decided he had played his last high school five. And that was a good decision.

He's gone out after bigger scalps, and he has a few of them lined up. The next one is a team from Sour Lake, a team from the University of Texas, and a team from the University of Texas.

After that, he wants Rice, and he's made it known that he wants a crack at the Good Gulf crew, while it is possible other stunts contests will be arranged.

RAINING HARD.

One of the best practice looks on record for the Stars was shown during the last six-day period. The stars boys appeared in one wing or another of Franklin gym all through the week, and when the other fellows don't show up, they are in the court, the power ones were Coach Abbey says there are some excellent players out for positions on a team now, and that they are giving up in such good trim that other boys are going to have a bit to retain their posts.

EW FACES OUT.

Included in the new material which Abbey graces the list for the Texas company is "Pug" Mazzaro, "Pug" played basketball with the Beaumont Patterson Grays for a number of years; he also played basketball, and he's an all-around athlete. He showed in fine in practice during the last week, and it may be said to assert that he is capable of a position at forward on the team.

"Pug" also hails from S. W. 1. I. per he is one of his initiation basketball, if it's the same as the one displayed during last week, then he had excellent this flag.

ORE MATERIAL.

Five new men in all have not yet appeared in the basketball court for the Texaco Star five, and Coach Abbey said that in position, are well pleased with the number in which the team is training. He said that the team is training in the gym and also on the court. The team is training in the gym and also on the court.

This team, with the 10 others who are scrambling for a permanent place on the club, are helping the Texas

WAR HERO SLATED FOR MINORS

By BILLY EVANS

There is an end to the career of every star player in baseball. No matter how great a performer a player may be, there comes a time when he finds the pace is too fast. For example, consider Hans Wagner, Larry Lajolo and a host of others.

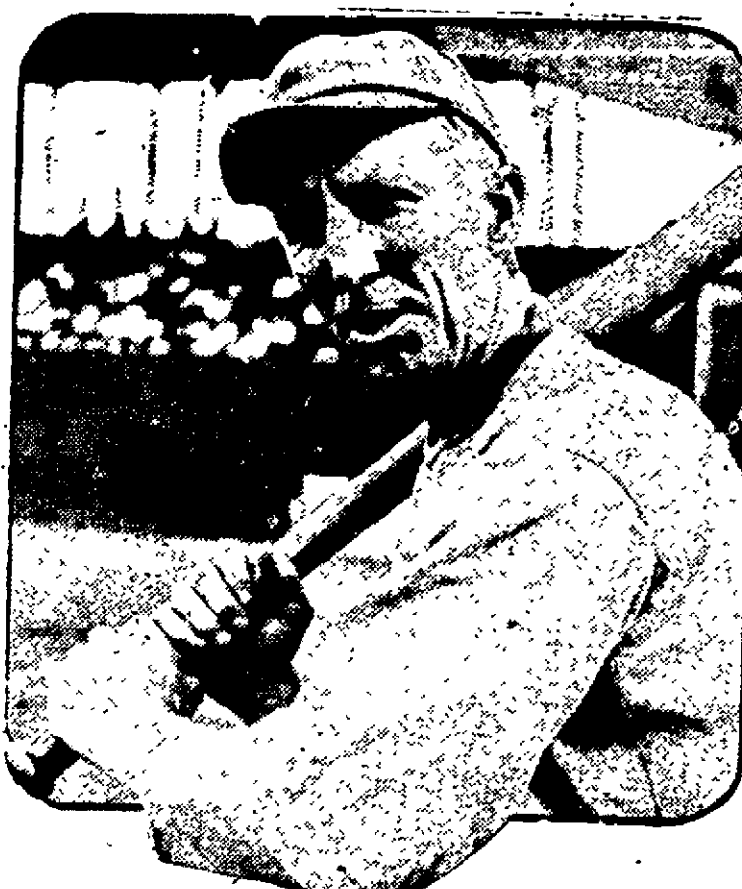

Rumor has it that Hank Gowdy, one of the most spectacular figures in major league baseball, is about to skip to the minors. It is said the Boston club intends to dispose of Gowdy.

Hank Gowdy burst into the sporting spotlight in 1914 with a vengeance and held it ever since. Gowdy is one of the most popular players that ever graced the National League. If it is true that Gowdy is to pass out the National League will lose a great character.

Hank Gowdy was a raw recruit when he joined the Giants in 1910. He didn't make much of an impression on McGraw and when the opportunity came to arrange a trade with Boston for Charley Herzog, Gowdy was shoved along in company with Art Brodwell and a bundle of cash.

Gowdy went to Buffalo. He didn't tarry long in Boston. He was released to Buffalo in 1913. He had promise but lacked experience and polish.

Gowdy came fast at Buffalo. After a year he was brought back to Boston, and won undying fame in one season—1914. His success that year is history, probably forgotten by many.

HANK GOWDY

The Braves of 1914 produced the biggest upset in baseball history. Boston won the National League pennant that year by coming from last place in July to first at the close of the season, stopping New York's record of three straight pennants.

Then the Braves proceeded to establish a world series record by taking four straight games from the Athletics, regarded as an invincible team.

Series' Greatest Hero

Hank Gowdy emerged from that series the greatest individual hero in the history of the baseball classic. His handling of the Boston pitchers was perfect. With a thorough knowledge of every batter on the hard-hitting Athletics, Gowdy's called signals that Mack's great team had a batting average of only .172.

Gowdy's offensive contribution consisted of the highest batting average ever compiled by a player who took part in every game. It was .215. Gowdy making 6 hits in 11 trips to the plate.

His six hits, all of them timely, included one single, three doubles, one triple and a home run.

When the United States entered the World War, Hank Gowdy was the first major league player to enlist. He made a most enviable record over there.

Gowdy has been a distinct credit to baseball on and off the field. His passing from the majors will be a real loss.

COACH MAKES GREAT RECORD AT MISSOURI

Guides Destiny of Grid Team 4 Years Undelected

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 27.—What is looked to be a world's record for a coach at a college, its class has just been established by Earl A. Davis, director of athletics at Missouri Wesleyan College, Cameron, Mo., a member of the Missouri College Athletic Union, an organization of nine denominational colleges of the state.

In six years as football coach, Davis' teams have won 45 out of 50 games played and for four years straight his team was not defeated. One of the five defeats in six years was at the hands of Missouri University, and the state institution is far out of the class of Wesleyan College.

Missouri Wesleyan usually has about 100 male students, while other schools in the union have as high as 400 male students.

Davis not only has won several football championships, but has also won titles in track and other branches of athletics. He has become recognized as one of the best coaches in the west.

Davis depends on speed, plus fighting spirit and a splendid assortment of wits. He is one of the few coaches capable of building machines that are equally strong on attack and defense.

Davis has just resigned his position at Wesleyan to become director of athletics at McKendree College, Lebanon, Ill.

MEEHAN JINX FOR DEMPSEY

Every fight champion can point to some certain fighter as his jinx. Usually the fighter is mediocre before, who falls an easy victim to men who are no match for the champion.

Willie Meehan, the "poly-poly" heavyweight from the coast, is one of the few fighters who have proved troublesome for the champion, Jack Dempsey.

In their first engagement, back in 1917, Dempsey took down the decision in a four-round bout. The same year Meehan managed to get a draw with the champion in four rounds. The following year he won the decision over the four-round route.

All of which gives Meehan the distinction of being the one fighter to make progress against Dempsey, for after losing a decision he asked out a draw, then a win.

Umpire Dick Nallin Has Fancy For Dogs

Dick Nallin, one of the best umpires in the major leagues, likes hunting as a sport next to the national pastime.

Such being the case, it is only natural that as a side issue to his baseball interests, Nallin should boast one of the finest kennels of pedigreed bird dogs in the country.

During the summer months Nallin has his kennels at Frederick, Md., while in the winter he ships a number of his best dogs south for the field trials.

During the past year Nallin has sold a score of classy bird dogs for fancy prices. It is said that his revenue from his kennels is in keeping with his salary as a major league umpire.

Many of Nallin's best dogs have been prize winners all over the country. With Dick there are just two things, baseball and dogs. He is always discussing one or the other.

Should a Monument Ever Be Erected to Gates it Should Rest on Jersey's Shoulders

Exalted Multimillionaire Dairyman Arranged Barns Like Miladi's Boudoir for Pet Bovines, Sold Milk for 10c a Quart and Lost Money

BY W. C. MOORE

The man who writes this, being gifted with the faculty of divination, predicts here that by the first half of March dairymen in the southern part of Jefferson county, Texas, will be supplying the retail milk trade at four cents a gallon, which, on an average, is usually handled, will mean thirteen cents per quart bottle to the consumer. This would make a three cents per quart reduction under prices obtaining at this time at most all distributing points.

This prediction is preliminary to a restoration of the fact that Port Arthur at one time enjoyed a milk supply that was not only all milk, but was one hundred per cent clean. In those golden days one could get outside of a quart bottle of it at a single string without imagining that he could taste the hired man's hands.

Nectar of the Gods

The exalted dairyman who supplied this magnificent fluid was the late John W. Gates.

Newcomers do not know—and old-timers have forgotten—the late John W. Gates among a multiplicity of other things was a dairyman. He was the project was one of his idols. The purpose was to supply Port Arthur with milk one hundred per cent pure and without a percentage of that peak of dirt which tradition says each one of us must eat in a lifetime. It ever a pyramid should be erected in Port Arthur to the memory of Gates, the corners of it should rest on the shoulders of four bronze Jersey cows. That's the kind of a dairyman John W. Gates was.

He didn't go into it to make money—he had more of that than he knew what to do with. He went into it to solve the problem of whether a high-class dairy running on the highest grade of milk given by the highest grade of cows that were nursed—and almost bathed like babies—could be sold for ten cents a quart delivered at the doors of consumers. After a long working he gave it up as a failure—one of the few which John W. Gates ever made.

Everything But Curles.

His was the Model Dairy, opened near the site of what is now the Model addition. His barns were as clean as a woman's kitchen. The windows of the cow barns were screened. Clean water was provided for the milk cows. The fodder as of the richest and the best. The curly comb as an attachment of the establishment, and the steaming equipment in the hot tank rooms made them look like laboratories. In the Gates dairy cleanliness as not considered as being next to godliness—it was considered as being out in, and any of the milkers who might have neglected to wash their hands before milking found the rollers put under them with a suddenness recalling the lightning for velocity.

In the Gates dairy everything shone like a mirror—except the dirt on the effort at sanitation. It did not matter what it cost. Mr. Gates was making an experiment; he was trying to determine whether milk produced under such conditions could be delivered at the doors of consumers at ten cents a quart. It could not be done. Mr. Gates lost money. It was a principle of his that there must be a fixed limitation to loss—that's why he closed up anything that failed to pay. He closed the Model Dairy. The herd went into other hands.

Cost 15c; Sold for 10c

That was around twelve years ago and in the period of ten cents milk. The Gates article was an insult superior to anything of the kind sold in the town that he had full swing. Probably, not a quart of it cost less than fifteen cents. It was an experiment. As a dividend paying investment it failed. Too much overhead expense in attention to the herd; rigid regulations for extreme sanitation that cost much money. He supplemented the highest degree of cleanliness to pasteurization—which denies the heating of milk to a point where numerous animalcules are destroyed. Possibly the Gates product carried the usual amount of bacteria which appears to be a varying part and parcel of milk under all conditions, but we didn't know so much about germs in milk in those days—in fact any kind of milk hurt us worse when we couldn't get it, and as for the butter fat of it the Gates milk had it.

Better put that term "butter fat" into your curable for assaying; half of us don't know what it means—and the other half don't appear to care much. It is used very extensively by the laboratory folks much in the same way as a physician tells you what the matter with you in language that you can't understand. Butter fat is simply chemically pure butter as distinguished from commercially pure butter, which carries a water content plus salt plus annatto for coloring. Butter fat is not cream but is present in cream; its percentage being determined by laboratory apparatus.

The Salsanna Boom

The Model addition, at one time known as the Model Farm, in connection with the Griffing Nurseries, formed the Gates holding out in the country. The Griffing tract was given over to culture being the range of the Gates herd. The Griffing nurseries succeeded the old Experimental Farm, a project for showing home-seekers what would grow down in this country. When the Griffings, in connection with Mr. Gates as a silent partner, established their nurseries on the remains of one previously operated they found a large lot of land, known up to Arkansas is now known as the Griffing tract. This land was used for building satsuma oranges and known as the Griffing tract. The Griffing nurseries came in on a satsuma boom along the coast which extended from the Mississippi river to Brownsville. Then came a blizzard or two, wiping both the orange groves and the men who put their money into the venture.

8 Hour Day, 6 Days a Week, Planned for Cops

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 27.—A bill limiting an eight-hour day to city policemen in Wisconsin has been introduced in the senate by Ben Getteman, Milwaukee. The bill would provide for a six-day week for eight hours a day for all policemen in the state. At present the hours of duty of police are regulated by the ordinances of the various towns.

The bill if passed, would supersede those ordinances.

I believe the policemen in the state are entitled to an eight-hour day, and a day out in seven just as well as the average working man.

Senator Getteman said: "The people of the state demand a great deal from the police and they should in return grant them a different wage for recreation and sleep."

Prompt Resuscitation Saves Electrocuting Lineman

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio, Jan. 27.—By promptly applying the prone resuscitation method, in which all Ohio Service Company employees are drilled, five fellow linemen saved the life of C. C. Weaver, 20.

Weaver had ceased to breathe for ten minutes after he was almost electrocuted by a 2,200-volt line on a pole which he had climbed.

It is said that Weaver, who had been working little more than a month for the company, was not aware of the high voltage line.

Everett Nixon, Weaver's brother-in-law, after climbing the pole in an effort to pull Weaver from the wire, was thrown thirty feet to the ground. Nixon, unharmed, climbed the pole again and placed a rope about Weaver, by which he was hoisted to the ground.

MOVE TO ABOLISH WISCONSIN MILITIA

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 27.—Abolition of the Wisconsin national guard is asked in two bills introduced into the senate of the Wisconsin legislature by senator J. J. Hirsch, socialist, Milwaukee, and into the assembly by Assemblyman John Polakowski, socialist, Milwaukee. These two measures call for complete repeal of the section of the statute creating the State National Guard. They would in effect abolish the adjutant general's department. The state would be dependent upon federal troops should an emergency arise.

THE SUNDAY NEWS' SOCIAL AND CLUB PAGES

Patriotic Motifs to Excel In Social Observances Here During Month of February

AS the month of February approaches, society is looking forward to the three holidays which February brings. Summer may be the best period for vacationing and recuperating, but winter is the season for holiday-making.

The birthdays of both Lincoln and Washington come during the month of February, the approach of which gives hostesses patriotic motifs for the adornment of their homes for entertainments during the early part of February.

Washington's birthday on February 22 will give the inspiration for a tea by the Department Club. Arrangements were at first made to have this a Colonial tea, but at the last Department Club meeting the members voted to make this a "Silver Tea," the proceeds of which will go to the Department Club building fund. The symphony club is perfecting plans to make this one of the most elaborate affairs of the season, and will be given at the beautiful home of Mrs. M. F. Bledsoe on February 19.

And there is another event in February which, if not a holiday, nevertheless calls for some recognition—St. Valentine's day. Without love there would have been no Washington, Lincoln, or United States; and it is probably no human race, so it becomes very appropriate to signalize a day devoted to the patron saint of lovers.

Valentine's Day is an ancient custom, instituted long before the Christian era, and the day is mentioned by Shakespeare, Chaucer, and as well by Lydgate, who died in the middle of the fifteenth century. One of the earliest known writers of Valentines, was a poetical anonymous addresser, who was no less a personage than Charles, Duke of Orleans.

Long known as the day of hearts and lace, St. Valentine's day is the day when youths enclose their undying affection in gift and lace and send it to their heart's desire, anonymously usually.

St. Valentine day originated several hundred years ago, and is named after a Roman bishop of the third century, who was executed on February 14. The bishop became a martyr and a saint and because his name was Valentine—February 14 became his day. It is paradoxical that his name should be used as the patron saint of lovers.

St. Valentine's is one of the most popular holidays in the year for entertaining; and hostesses are planning in advance to send out their invitations early.

Hostesses give fullest recognition of the Valentine theme in their hospitality appointments, and arrange their homes with the emblematic sacred hearts of Dan Cupid.

Shops are showing many novelties in invitations—small red hearts that fit into heart-shaped envelopes; and white cards decorated with hearts or cupids, with the invitation completely worded save for the names.

Those who like to write their own invitations will find all shapes, sizes and colors of stationery, and hearts and cupids cut out and gummed, waiting to be used.

Old-fashioned Valentines, with lace paper and sentimental verses, make appropriate invitations.

The Valentine party rarely takes the form of a masquerade, but the hostess usually plans caps and favors for the guests, to give festive air to the event. Almost any grade card or envelope can be made highly decorative by adding long tassels or fringe at either side.

Heart necklaces of card board with a ruffle of red crepe paper hung about the neck on a ribbon are effective and easily made. The jazz bracelet is a novelty consisting of a ribbon to be worn about the wrist, with long red and white crepe paper streamers.

Huge cardboard and crepe paper fans, hung with fringe and hearts, and red paper sachets, with which hearts will make any costume look quite festive, while girlish or full skirts of fringed red paper, on the order of the Hawaiian costume, worn over a white dress, affect a quick transformation.

Generally, red is the prevailing color in a Valentine party, but very lovely effects may be gained by shading from a deep red into rose or pink. Or pink or rose may be used if the hostess prefers.

With a week filled almost to the brim with informal bridge parties and club meetings, to save nothing of the delightful assemblies of congenial friends, it remained for Thursday to bring into the social calendar one of the most enjoyable affairs of the week. This delightful hospitality assumed the form of a Silver Tea at the home of Mrs. W. J. Boutwell, with members of the Beta Division of the First Christian church as assisting hostesses.

Guests on arriving were greeted at the portals of the pleasant Boutwell home by Mrs. Boutwell, Mrs. William Oeschelger, Mrs. Guy C. Johnson, Mrs. B. W. Parks, and Mrs. E. F. Funk. Mrs. Dewey Bostic had the guest book. Beautiful pink japonica clustered in the dining room gave the keynote for the motif of pink and blue, which featured all details of the hospitality.

The dining room was especially attractive with arrangements of the favored blossoms clustered in slender crystal vases. The table with its handsome lace cover was colored by a crystal vase of the beautiful pink flowers, and the lovely lace napkins in silver holders gave an added charm to the table appointments. Mrs. S. O. Latimer and Mrs. M. J. Leinen poured tea.

A delightful program was rendered during the afternoon hours, the opening number being a piano solo by Mrs. Lois Boutwell Jaschke, whose playing throughout displayed an unusual degree of finish. The rendition of Cowen's "The Swallow" gave Mrs. P. A. Timmins unusual range for her flexible voice; and Miss Gladys Allen's purity of tone and excellent phrasing were especially enjoyable in her solo, "Sing Me to Sleep." Violin accompaniment was played by Mrs. W. Robertshaw, with Miss Clara Repschlaeger at the piano.

Little Miss Lorraine Spencer's reading was one of the delightful features of the program. Two beautiful violin selections, Schubert's "Romance" and Brahms' "To the Rising Sun," by Mrs. Sam Simon, were the result of brilliant technique combined with expressive interpretation. Mrs. Simon was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Rupert Theobald.

Miss Antney Mee Denison delighted the guests with two amusing readings, "Ph." and "The Silver Tea." Clear diction and an unwavering smoothness individualized Mrs. J. E. Grammer's selections, Herman Lohr's "Rose of My Heart" and Cupid's "Wing," by W. G. Hammond. The delicate coloring of Mrs. Grammer's voice is always a distinguishing quality of her numbers. Piano accompaniment was given by Mrs. The Duke.

An entertaining number of the program was little Miss Mary Keith's reading, "The Bear Story." The guests enthusiastically responded to two violin selections, Thurlow Litterman and Corbin de la "Beautiful Catalina" and Corbin de la "Red Moon" by Mrs. Willis Robertshaw, accompanied by Miss Repschlaeger. Mrs. Robertshaw's clearness of execution and her rendition of the fine and delicate gradations according to the inner demands of the music, was particularly effective.

Of unusual merit was little Miss Doris B. Cloutman's two readings, which were received with hearty applause by the guests. The concluding number of afternoon's program was given by Mrs. Gladys Boutwell, when she sang, Carolyn Wells Barrett's "Optimism," and Emma Lauchford's "Go Little Song." Mrs. Boutwell's voice is of a rich quality, which lent itself exceedingly well to the varying moods of the composition of both songs.

The theme of this charming event included Mrs. W. P. Inman, Mrs. H. M. Fredericksen, Mrs. H. J. Langridge, Miss John Langridge, Miss Irene Andrews, and Miss Florence Bash.

Miss Anne Murphy will be the club's hostess next week at her home on Marshall avenue.

NO BEAUTY LIKE VEILED BEAUTY, POETS SAY; THIS YEAR THEY WILL EXTEND TO JUST BELOW THE EYES

Where last year's cheeks were pale, this year's cheeks are rosy red. Where last year's cheeks were pale, this year's cheeks are rosy red. Where last year's cheeks were pale, this year's cheeks are rosy red.

The Parisian vogue for pale, wan cheeks, enlivened by scarlet lips, has passed. The deathly pale of the midwinter has fallen at last under the spell of the rouge pot.

Madly knows that complexion changes should not be to sudden and she is applying her rouge in light, flesh tones and wearing little net veils which extend half way over the face.

Poets have said that there is no beauty like veiled beauty, and it leaves something to the imagination. Perhaps they are right. The lack of the harem would probably cry their pretty eyes out if their veils were taken away from them.

Veils of this season are very small affairs that are attached to the hat and extend just below the eyes. Lady in Paris Arthur who does not prefer the veil is achieving a perfect with a bit of lace draped from the hat and extending just below the eyes. Browns and blacks are the most popular colors at present, the browns ranging from tannish flesh to deep tones. Even the small evening hats are worn with veils of the sheerest black silk net, with little beauty spots of velvet, which call attention to the eyes.

On the small mushroom and poke hats which are gaining in popularity for street wear just now, the short veils are tied with a rather large bow at the side front. Nearly all veils are made of plain mesh and without dots.

Spring hats show a tendency to fit snugly over the ears. To the woman whose hair (bobbed by style) again is just beginning to grow out, they are indeed a boon. Street caps are tucked away early and long looks are kept from straying in the March winds. Apple and Lanvin green are the newest shades and are trimmed with ribbons or flowers of their own color. They top off beautifully with the early spring suit shades of gray and tan.

With the advent of smart things for the spring season, every fashion woman is beginning to bestir herself with thoughts of spring and what to include in her new wardrobe. If she is dependent on busy dressmakers, or if she plans to create new spring garments with her own needle, it is not too early for a woman to be on the lookout for new fashions.

Of course it is a little difficult to tell at this early date just which of the advance styles will meet the test of endurance. One thing is certain, however, and that is that the three piece suit will be the leader. Striped, the three piece suit is not in three pieces at all, but in the very favorable combination of snappy straightline dress and smart jacket or cape. So cleverly are they designed that they have the appearance of very beautiful tailors when worn with the jacket and charming afternoon frocks when the jacket is discarded. These little frocks have the virtue of being appropriate for almost any occasion, for afternoon almost and bridge affairs, and during any morning or afternoon entertainment. Especially when made in one of the season's new crepes such a frock will "get by" most anywhere.

Beautiful embroidery of gold and silver also will be worn extensively. H. W. Corbett, Mrs. P. S. DeWitt, Mrs. H. K. Goodwin, Mrs. Gray, Mrs. John Crews, Mrs. J. M. Latham, Mrs. L. L. LeMaster, Mrs. Susannah Loebe, Mrs. L. Lundy, Mrs. Frank Montgomery, Mrs. E. A. Pond, Mrs. C. V. Palmer, Mrs. Pickett of St. Paul, Minn., Mrs. W. P. Park, Mrs. M. M. Rutan, Mrs. Ralph Smith, Mrs. H. H. Witbeck, Mrs. F. A. Pond, and Mrs. J. A. Paschal.

OF INTEREST TO A WIDE circle of Port Arthur friends is the following extract, taken from the Jackson (Tenn.) Sun, concerning the work of Mrs. Henry P. Downey, who formerly lived in this city:

"Mrs. Henry P. Downey, field secretary and organizer of the National Child Conservation League, is here to interest the mothers of Jackson in the work of a League, which has for its object helping parents train their children, physically, morally and intellectually, laying special emphasis on training for social purity. It provides for their welfare by means of a systematic educational and advisory work in the acquirement of definite knowledge and broader culture relating especially to child-rearing and its needs."

"The Child Conservation League is a national organization, incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia, and by co-operation with organized womanhood the League seeks to do those practical things through enforcement of laws to better the condition of man. The president of the League is Dr. Winfield Scott Hall, the eminent authority on Sex Hygiene and Social Purity. On its advisory board are many famous men, among whom are Judge Ben Lindsey, Luther Burbank, Edwin Markham, poet and social reformer, Prof. O'Shea of the University of Wisconsin, and Prof. Zuehlke, publicist and lecturer."

"Mrs. Downey has been service in twelve states for the past nine years, and has recently organized ten clubs in Middle Tennessee. She arrived here Sunday and is domiciled with Mrs. B. A. Owen for several weeks."

Reading: "I am the Immigrant," Mrs. Lee Sumner, followed by the immigrants: Russia, Mrs. Dewey Bostic; China, Mrs. W. E. Clinton; Japan, Mrs. H. Metz; and Mexico, Mrs. W. Fordyce and children. The Bible Woman, Mrs. S. M. Vaughn, Trio: "Someone Must Tell Them Who Knows."

Musical numbers for the afternoon will be rendered by Miss Gladys Allen, Mrs. Clara Repschlaeger, Mrs. Dewey Bostic, Mrs. Guy C. Johnson.

Following the program a social hour will be enjoyed, and delicious refreshments, appropriate for the occasion, will be served.

A PLEASING AFFAIR OF LAST week's social calendar was the charmingly appointed five hundred party with Mrs. H. B. Pagni and Mrs. A. L. Carter as hostesses at the former's attractive new home, 2518 Fourteenth street.

Vivid hues of geraniums and roses gave lovely floral adornment to the room given over to the hospitality, and formed a pretty background for the afternoon games. Three tables of players enjoyed the games, at the close of which Mrs. R. Avery was presented with the first prize and the second favor fell to Mrs. C. F. Summy. Mrs. J. P. Nelson scored low. A salad course was served after the games.

Players for the occasion included Mrs. Ivan Schwinn, Mrs. O. M. Brierley, Mrs. C. E. Summy, Mrs. J. A. Verrett, Mrs. H. L. Glover, Mrs. J. P. Nelson, Mrs. A. G. Starnes, Mrs. A. L. Carter, Mrs. R. B. Tomlinson, Mrs. Gladys Chandler, Mrs. Kyle Dowdy, Mrs. S. B. Avery, and Mrs. H. B. Pagni.

MR. AND MRS. J. HANSEN and daughter, Jessie, left Friday for their home in Borwick, Minn. after a pleasant six weeks' visit here with Mrs. F. A. Pond, Mrs. Ralph Smith, and Mrs. H. C. Witbeck.

MRS. J. A. PASCHAL DELIGHTEDLY entertained the Corn Canner Cann Class Friday afternoon at her home, 826 Fifth street. Assisting Mrs. Paschal in hostess duties were Mrs. F. A. Pond, Mrs. Ralph Smith, and Mrs. H. C. Witbeck.

The home was attractively adorned with a profusion of lovely roses and ferns. Election of officers featured the business session, following the devotional service by Mrs. W. E. Blackstock.

Officers elected were Mrs. Isabelle Baracelot, president; Mrs. H. W. Corbett, vice president; Mrs. Harry Maile, secretary; and Mrs. J. M. Latham, treasurer. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in needlework, after which the hostess offered a dainty refreshment service.

Those enjoying the afternoon were Mrs. L. B. Abbey, Mrs. Isabelle Baracelot, Mrs. W. E. Blackstock, Mrs. J. E. Grammer. Players included

Miss Edith Upson, who has just returned from Austin where she attended the Episcopal church conference gave an interesting report on the conference.

Enjoying Thursday's session were Mrs. N. M. Nelson, Mrs. C. H. Fitzgerald, Mrs. W. W. Glass, Mrs. Solomon, Dr. Alice Barlow-Brown, Mrs. Elizabeth Gohing, Miss Edith Upson, Mrs. J. A. Trautman, Mrs. J. L. Boyd, Mrs. T. F. Brooks, Mrs. Frank Y. Low, Mrs. Sidney C. Collier, Mrs. May E. Jennis, Mrs. Robert E. Latimer, Mrs. Frank E. Potts, Mrs. Anna Sherman, Mrs. Nora Keith, Mrs. G. Mrs. G. H. Eubank will entertain the Guild next week at her home, 2201 Lake Shore drive.

A CHARMINGLY ARRANGED hospitality of the past week was the surprise birthday party tendered Mrs. T. F. Jackson Monday afternoon by her daughters, Mrs. M. F. Bledsoe and Mrs. H. J. Jones at the lovely Bledsoe home on Lake Shore drive. The inspiration of this delightful affair was Mrs. Jackson's seventy-second birthday.

The depressing effects of Monday's gloomy weather were entirely lost in the den, where the hostesses assembled the guests. A cheery fire glowed in the open fireplace, giving an air of coziness and warmth, which added to the charming hospitality.

Dainty handwork gave enjoyable diversion for the guests, who, at five o'clock, were invited into the dining room, where a dainty two course repast was served. The hostess's selection of a pink motif to feature the table appointments was cleverly displayed in the pink roses and geraniums and green foliage. The place cards showed the happy occasion of the birthday. Graceful and dainty day cake, on which were seventy-two tiny candles. A two course luncheon was served, the chosen motif being further displayed in the tempting menu. Covers were laid for four.

The personnel of this pleasing affair, in addition to Mrs. Jackson, included Mrs. John T. Jones, Mrs. Sallie Inman, Mrs. J. P. Landers, Mrs. Horton L. Drake, Mrs. H. Woodworth Sr., Mrs. J. A. Gibson, Mrs. P. C. Pfeiffer, Mrs. C. C. Harrell, Mrs. J. D. Carter, Mrs. W. E. Crumpler, Mrs. George K. Loman, Mrs. W. H. Jones and Mrs. M. F. Bledsoe.

MRS. M. E. CLEVELAND, MISS H. H. Brown, Mrs. A. C. Vincent, Mrs. E. E. Stuckey, Mrs. D. B. Brannon, and Mrs. S. D. Stuart were hostesses to the Missionary Society of the First M. E. Church, South, Thursday afternoon at the Cleveland home on Sixth street.

The home was in attractive adornment for the occasion. In an amusing contest Mrs. W. L. Jones was awarded the prize; and during the afternoon hours Mrs. J. A. Durke entertained the guests with a piano selection, and Mrs. W. L. Jones gave a delightful reading. A beautiful vocal duet, "Wispering Hope" was sung by Mrs. J. L. Singletary and Mrs. G. W. Swift. The hostesses offered a lovely salad course.

Guests for the afternoon included Mrs. J. E. Baker, Mrs. J. E. Crowder, Mrs. E. L. Vaughan, Mrs. H. E. Banker, Mrs. J. W. Wyatt, Mrs. W. A. Dreier, Mrs. L. L. Guinn, Mrs. F. Helms, Mrs. E. E. Godley.

AMONG THE DELIGHTFUL affairs of the week was Mrs. W. E. Crumpler's hospitality Saturday afternoon at the Country Club in honor of the lovely birthday anniversary of her son, Emmett.

Beautiful roses of the pink and white hues graced vantage points about the large assembly room. The dining room was especially attractive on this occasion, the long table being centered with the handsome birthday cake, on which gleamed twelve small candles. Lovely blossoms in crystal vases and pink candles in crystal candlesticks gave added charm to the table appointments. Pink and white hued mints of the Crystal and white hued. The punch table in one corner of the room was also prettily decorated, the bowl being embedded in an embankment of green foliage and flowers.

Viola music gave inspiration for dancing during the afternoon hours. The grand march being led by little Miss Gloria Mae Swearingen and Emmett Crumpler. Games, both indoors and outdoors, also gave diversion for the young people during the afternoon hours.

For the grown-ups who attended this delightful affair, Mrs. Crumpler had two tables of bridge arranged. After the games, Mrs. Frank D. Mahey was presented with the first prize, Mrs. J. E. Biggers, the second favor, and consolation fell to Mrs. J. E. Grammer. Players included
